ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

OF THEIR PROCEEDINGS UNDER THE TITHE AND OTHER ACTS ADMINISTERED IN THE LAND DIVISION.

The report of the Board for the year 1892 (C. 6891) contained a short account of the various Acts administered in the Land Division of their Department and of the method of their administration. That Report remains available for the use of those who may have occasion to refer to it. The present Report is confined to an account of the proceedings under the various Acts during the year 1894, with a summary of the work done in previous years.

Tithe Acts.

The total number of applications to the Board, under the provisions of the Tithe Acts which they administer, was 783 in 1894, as compared with 779 in the previous year.

The majority of these cases fell under two heads:—applications for redemption of tithe rentcharge, which were 487, as compared with 488 in 1893, and applications for altered apportionments of tithe rentcharge, which were 193, as against 204 in 1893.

Under other heads of business the applications numbered 103 in 1894, as compared with 87 in the previous year.

The cases completed in the year comprised 449 redemptions and 207 altered apportionments of tithe rentcharge, as compared with 342 and 162 respectively in the previous year.

Eighty-six cases were completed under other heads in 1894, as compared with 76 in the previous year.

Seventy-one applications were withdrawn or otherwise disposed of, as against 62 in 1893, and at the close of 1894 there remained a total of 1,223 cases in various stages of progress, as compared with 1,253 at the end of 1893.

A tabular statement of the proceedings under the Acts is included in the Appendix.

The amount of the official fees received during the financial year, 1893–4, in respect of business under the Tithe Acts, was 1,458*l.* 15*s.*

Copyhold Acts.

The total number of enfranchisements completed by the Board under the Copyhold Acts administered by them was 308 in 1894, as compared with 314 in 1893, 252 being under the compulsory and 56 under the voluntary provisions of the Acts.

The total consideration for these enfranchisements by way of capital payments was 27,039*l.* 6*s.* 1*d.*, and by way of annual rentcharges 240*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*

Proceedings in 222 enfranchisements have also been commenced, 212 being under the compulsory and 10 under the voluntary provisions of the Acts.

On the 25th of August last the Copyhold Act, 1894, was passed. The Act repeals the six Copyhold Acts (1841-1887) previously in force, and re-enacts their provisions with clearness and accuracy. It should be of great assistance to persons interested in copyhold property, as regards both enfranchisement and the general law of copyholds.

The amount of the official fees received during the year 1893–4, was 1,105*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.*

Inclosure Acts.

1. Regulation and Inclosure of Commons.

The Board had under consideration six applications for Provisional Orders, four being for regulation and two for inclosure. The regulation applications relate to Gresley Common, 72 acres, in Derbyshire; to Monton Green, 2½ acres, in the borough of Eccles; to Highroad Well Moor, 7½ acres, at Halifax; and to Bexhill Down, 46 acres, at Bexhill, Sussex. In all the four cases it is proposed to vest the management of the lands, as open spaces, in the local authorities. The inclosure applications relate to the Castor and Ailsworth open fields and commons, about 3,500 acres, in Northamptonshire, and to the Upton St. Leonard's open fields, 534 acres, near Gloucester. The Board ordered local inquiries, with public meetings, to be held with respect to all the applications. They issued a Provisional Order in the matter of the Castor and Ailsworth inclosure, and if the necessary consents are given it will be the duty of the Board to make a special report on the case, and to submit the Order for confirmation by Parliament. In the other cases the proceedings were not sufficiently advanced to enable the Board to frame Provisional Orders.

A Provisional Order for the regulation of the Luton Moors, 33 acres, was submitted to and confirmed by Parliament, and, the subsequent proceedings having been completed, the lands are now under the management and control of the Corporation of Luton.

The regulation and inclosure of commons, and the holding and management of allotments set out under the Inclosure Acts for recreation grounds and field gardens, are to some extent affected by the Local Government Act, 1894.

Notice of any application to the Board in relation to a common is to be served upon the council of every parish and district in which the common is situated; sections 8 (4) and 26 (2).

A district council may, with the consent of the county council for the county within which any common land is situated, aid persons in maintaining rights of common, where, in the opinion of the council, the extinction of such rights would be prejudicial to the inhabitants of the district; section 26 (2). A district council may also, under the same section and with the like consent, exercise in relation to any common within their district all the powers conferred by section 8 of the Commons Act, 1876, upon an urban sanitary authority in relation to any common referred to in that section; that is to say (a) in case of an application for a Provisional Order affecting the common, they will have a right to appear before the officer of the Board on the occasion of his holding a local inquiry, or before the Board, and to make, at any time during the proceedings in relation to obtaining the Provisional Order, such representations as they may think fit with respect to the expediency or inexpediency of the application, regard being had to the health, comfort, and convenience of the inhabitants of the district, and to propose such provisions as may appear to them to be proper, regard being had as aforesaid; (b) they may in the like case, with the sanction of the Board, enter into an undertaking—(1) to contribute out of their funds for or towards the maintenance of recreation grounds, or of paths or roads, or the doing any other matter or thing for the benefit of the district in relation to the common; or (2) to pay compensation in respect of the rights of commoners for the purpose of securing greater privileges for the benefit of the district; (c) they may acquire by gift and hold without licence in mortmain, on trust for the benefit of the district, any common within the district, and any rights in such a common; (d) they may purchase and hold as aforesaid, with a view to prevent the extinction of the rights of common, any saleable rights in common, or any tenement of a commoner having annexed thereto rights of common; (e) they may, with the consent of persons representing at least one-third in value of such interests in a common within the district as are proposed to be affected by the Provisional Order, make application to the Board for the regulation of the common, with a view to the benefit of the district and the improvement of the common; and (f) where they make such an application, or undertake to make any contribution, or to pay any compensation, or to make any other payment out of their funds in respect of a common, they may, if the Board deem it advisable, having regard to the benefit of the neighbourhood as well as to private interests, be invested with such powers of management or other powers as may be expedient.

Any powers exerciseable by an urban sanitary authority at the passing of the Act are not prejudiced, and the council of every county borough has the additional powers conferred on a district council as above mentioned.

A parish council also may apply to the Board under section 9 of the Commons Act, 1876, with a view to obtaining a Provisional Order thereunder; section 8 (1) (c).

With regard to allotments to churchwardens and overseers for recreation grounds and field gardens, in any parish which has a parish council, the legal interest therein, as well as the powers, duties, and liabilities, of the churchwardens and overseers and of the allotment wardens with respect to the holding or management of such allotments, will vest in, be transferred to, and be exercised by, the parish council; sections 5 (2) (c), 6 (1) (c) (iii.), and 6 (4); and the council will have power to make and enforce byelaws with respect to any such recreation ground; section 8 (1) (d).

In any rural parish not having a separate parish council, the legal interest in allotments for recreation grounds and field gardens will vest in the chairman and overseers of the parish; section 19 (7); and as regards the management, the county council on the application of the parish meeting may confer on that meeting all or any of the powers conferred by the Act on a parish council; sections 19 (10) and 6 (4). Unless and until such powers be conferred with respect to such allotments, the management will remain as provided by the Inclosure Acts, with the exception that the choice of one of the churchwardens and of two ratepayers as wardens of the field garden allotment (hitherto made in like manner as the appointment of overseers) will be made by the parish meeting, as the body in which the power and duty of appointing the overseers is vested by section 19 (5).

Any of the powers, duties, and liabilities, of a parish council, including of course those relating to recreation grounds and field gardens, may by Order of the Local Government Board, made on the application of the council of any municipal borough, including a county borough, or of any other urban district, be conferred on that council or some other representative body within the borough or district; section 33 (1).

2. Exchange, Partition, and Division of Land.

Thirty-eight Orders of Exchange were confirmed in 1894, affecting 762 acres of land valued at 32,132*l.*, as compared with 45 Orders in 1893, affecting 631 acres valued at 49,097*l.* Forty-seven new applications under this heading were received.

The amount of the official fees received during the year 1893–4 was 227*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.*

Metropolitan Commons Acts.

No business was transacted under these Acts during the year 1894, but a statement of what was done in previous years will be found in the Appendix.

Drainage and Improvement of Land Acts.

The total number of applications to the Board in the year 1894 for their sanction to expenditure under these Acts was 186, as compared with 214 in 1893. The total sum applied for was 138,015*l.*, as compared with 167,783*l.* in 1893, the reduction of 29,768*l.* being due to a falling off in respect of works proposed in connexion with the general Improvement Acts, while works proposed under the Limited Owners' Residences Acts show an increase of 8,695*l.*

The actual expenditure on works carried out and completed, for which charges on estates have been created, was 150,949*l.* 2*s.*, as compared with 116,816*l.* 10*s.* in 1893, an excess of 34,132*l.* 12*s.*

The falling off of the transactions of the year in respect of the outlay sanctioned for new works is probably due for the most part to the continued depreciation in the rental value of agricultural land, and to the use of capital money in the hands of trustees for the payment of outlays on works, under the provisions of the Settled Land Acts, 1882 to 1890.

During the year 1894 no Commissions of Sewers or separate drainage districts were constituted under the Land Drainage Act, 1861. In two cases sanction was given to proposals to mortgage the rates, the amount thus borrowed amounting to 3,150*l.*

During the year 1894 no cases were completed under the Thames Valley Drainage Acts, or the Somersetshire Drainage Act, 1877.

Settled Land Acts.

The number of nominations of Surveyors approved, and of certificates of works issued, in 1894, was 230, as compared with 190 in 1893.

The amount of the official fees received during the year 1893–4 was 119*l.*

Universities and College Estates Acts.

Ninety-nine applications were received by the Board, during the year 1894, for their consent to sales, purchases, and exchanges of property, to improvement loans, and to other transactions. The number of such applications in 1893 was 78. The following is a summary of the 91 transactions to which the consent of the Board was given:—

	£	s.	d.
57 sales, for an aggregate sum of	104,199	13	5
18 purchases, for an aggregate sum of	18,061	8	9
1 exchange of property, valued at	150	0	0
12 loans, amounting to	28,278	1	6
1 augmentation of benefice	250	0	0
2 transfers of trust	—
	150,939	3	8

So much of the purchase-money arising from the sales as was not re-invested in the purchase of land, or advanced by way of loan, was invested in securities in the name of the Board.

The amount of the official fees received during the year 1893–4 was 335*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.*

The securities held by the Board, ex parte the different universities or colleges, were on 31st December 1894 as follows:—

Consols	415,532	7	0
2½ per cent. annuities	16,428	8	4
India 3 per cent. stock	8,408	3	4

Corporation stocks	43,271	17	1

Glebe Lands Act, 1888.

Sixty-four applications were made by incumbents during the year 1894, for the Board's approval of the sale of glebe lands of the aggregate area of 2,122 acres. Approval was given during the year in 54 cases to the extent of 1,951 acres. The sales actually completed in the year were 50 in number, comprising 1,638 acres. The purchase-money paid in respect of these was 81,829*l.*, which, after payment of necessary expenses, has been invested for the benefit of the respective incumbents. In the previous year 58 sales, comprising 1,329 acres, were carried out, and the purchase money paid was 34,122*l.*

The amount of the official fees received during the year 1893–4 was 198*l.* 10*s.*

Small Holdings Act, 1892.

During the year the Board caused inquiries to be made of the several county councils as to the working of the Small Holdings Act, 1892. The result is summarised in the following statement:—

1. Counties in which no applications for small holdings had been made, or in which the councils did not find that the circumstances were such as to justify them in acquiring land for the purposes of the Act:—

Anglesey.	Herts.	Pembroke.
Bedford.	Hunts.	Radnor.
Berks.	Isle of Ely.	Rutland.
Brecon.	Isle of Wight.	Salop.
Bucks.	Kent.	Soke of Peterboro'.

2. Counties in which applications were made, but the councils were unable to purchase the lands desired:—

Cornwall.	Surrey.	York, E.R.
Hereford.	Sussex, West.
Lincoln (Kesteven).	Wilts.

3. Counties in which applications made had still to be dealt with:—

Devon.	Flint.	Sussex, East.
Durham.	Lincoln (Lindsey).
Essex.	Northumberland.

4. Counties in which land had been or was in course of being acquired by the councils:—

Cambridge.—Council purchased 32 acres 2 roods 23 perches at Comberton, and resold 10 acres 3 roods 27 perches to five small holders, and let the remainder to 12 tenants.

Lincoln (Holland).—Two farms, 88 acres and 48 acres, at Spalding and Freiston, were purchased by Council, and let to 31 and 25 tenants.

London.—680 applications were made, mostly under section 4 (3) of the Act. The Council succeeded in renting only two acres, at Charlton, which are in cultivation on the co-operative system.

Warwick.—Several applications to hire land. In some cases the demands were met by private arrangements, but the Council resolved to take on lease 17 acres at Farnborough, and 19 acres at Hunningham.

Worcester.—In Lickey division the Council purchased 147 acres 0 roods 22 perches, and another case stood for consideration.

The Somerset County Council advanced money to a tenant to enable him to purchase his holding from the landlord, under Part II. of the Act.

Agricultural Holdings Acts.

Umpires were appointed by the Board in twelve cases during 1894. The number of appointments made in 1893 was six.

The amount of the official fees received during the year 1893–4 was 2*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*

Conveyancing and Law of Property Act, 1881.

Three redemptions of perpetual rents or annual charges were effected under section 45 of the above Act during the year 1894.

Ordnance Survey Maps.

For the convenience of the public the Ordnance Survey maps of Great Britain and Ireland on the scale of one inch to the mile, and those of Great Britain on the scale of six inches to the mile, are now kept at the Offices of the Board at 3, St. James's Square, S.W., and are available for inspection without charge.

Upon both series of these Maps the county and parish boundaries are shown, and upon the Six-inch Scale Maps the boundaries of the Parliamentary and the various Local Government districts are also marked.

The Board are making arrangements to record upon another series of Maps the boundaries of Petty Sessional Divisions. These will also be revised as the in mation is received from the Clerks of the Peace.

Local Government Act, 1894.

Under the provisions of this Act copies of all Notices of Inquiry and Orders made by the several county councils in England and Wales affecting the names of parishes or their boundaries are sent to this Board, and are examined with a view to the ultimate record of the Order on the Ordnance Survey maps.

During the past year 297 Notices and 788 County Council Orders were received by the Department, and, as it was found that many of these needed either verbal or substantial amendment in the correct description of the boundaries intended to be prescribed, the Board considered it would be more convenient if these amendments could be made in the Draft Orders before their issue. With this object they issued a circular letter on 14th July 1894 inviting the clerks of the several county councils to submit the Draft Orders for examination before issue by the county council. The clerks of many of the county councils have availed themselves of these facilities, and the Board have reason to think that the advantages gained have been considerable.

Copyhold Acts.

The following table shows the number of enfranchisements and commutations which have taken place under the Copyhold Acts from 1841, when the first Act was passed, to 1894 inclusive, distinguishing the number and the amounts of the gross sums or rentcharges or the quantities of land received by the lord for compensation in each year, and the totals for the whole number of years. The total number is 17,626, of which only two were commutations.

Drainage and Improvement of Land Acts.

The total expenditure on land improvement in Great Britain, that has been made a charge on the land, from the commencement of the Public Money Drainage Acts in 1847, and under the subsequent Improvement Companies' Acts and others, up to the 31st December last, amounts to 16,521,277*l.* 12*s.*, distributed as follows:—

Drainage	8,968,731	5	1
Farm buildings	4,702,361	5	4
Labourers' cottages	1,067,336	16	8
Fencing and embanking	432,998	12	9
Roads	161,275	18	4
Clearing and reclamation	146,442	16	11

Subscriptions to railways	116,923	1	1
Mansion houses, &c.	566,357	6	3
	16,521,277	12	0

Four millions of this was public money advanced by the Exchequer under the Public Money Drainage Acts for the drainage of agricultural land, nearly all of which has now been repaid by those to whom it was advanced. The remainder has been found through the several Land Improvement Companies under their special Acts, and by landowners themselves under the Improvement of Land Act, 1864, and the Limited Owners' Residences Acts.

COMMONS ACT, 1876 (BEXHILL DOWN).

REPORT by the BOARD OF AGRICULTURE upon an Application for a Provisional Order for the Regulation of BEXHILL DOWN, in the County of SUSSEX.

Board of Agriculture,
7 May 1895.

T. H. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

REPORT by the BOARD OF AGRICULTURE upon an Application for a Provisional Order for the Regulation of Bexhill Down, in the County of Sussex.

APPLICATION was made under the Commons Act, 1876, for a Provisional Order for the regulation of the Common known as Bexhill Down, in the County of Sussex.

After all necessary notices had been given, and a local inquiry with public meetings held, a Provisional Order was framed by the Board, and, the requisite consents having been given to it, the Board certify that it is expedient that such Provisional Order, a copy of which is hereto annexed, should be confirmed by Parliament, for the reasons hereinafter detailed, it having been proved to the satisfaction of the Board that the proposed regulation would be of benefit to the neighbourhood.

The Down, which lies in close proximity to the town, and three quarters of a mile from the sea front, contains about 46 acres. It is a picturesque tract, to a large extent overgrown with gorse. In the more open part there is a good cricket ground, which has been used for many years by the local club. The population of Bexhill was 5,206 at the time of the 1891 census, but has since increased, and building operations are being actively carried on.

The object of the Provisional Order is to vest the management of the Down, as an open space, in the Bexhill Urban District Council, with the consent of the lord of the manor and the commoners. The Council will be empowered to drain, fence, plant, or otherwise improve the land, to preserve or lay out cricket grounds, and to frame and enforce bye-laws for keeping order and preventing nuisances. A right of free access to the whole of the Down is to be reserved to the inhabitants of Bexhill and the neighbourhood, together with a privilege of playing games and enjoying reasonable recreation, subject only to the bye-laws which may be made by the Council. The Council have, under the statutory provisions enabling them so to do, undertaken to contribute the funds necessary for the maintenance and management of the Down as an open space.

The rights of common to which the Down is subject appear to be sufficiently known and defined, so that no adjustment of the rights is called for.

The public meetings held in the course of the local inquiry were respectively attended by about 25 and 36 persons, the larger number being present at the evening meeting. All classes of the inhabitants were represented. No opinion was expressed adverse to the proposed regulation, which appears to meet with general approval, and can scarcely fail to render the neighbourhood more attractive both to visitors and to the residents.

Secretary.

And whereas the Bexhill Urban District Council as the Urban Sanitary Authority of a town to which the Down is suburban within the meaning of the said Acts have with the sanction of the said Board entered into an undertaking to contribute out of their funds such sums as may from time to time be necessary for the maintenance of the Down:

Now therefore the Board of Agriculture in pursuance of the powers given to them by the Board of Agriculture Act 1889 and the said Acts and being satisfied that having regard to the benefit of the neighbourhood as well as to private interests the regulation of the Down is desirable have framed for the consideration of the persons interested this Draft Provisional Order specifying the provisions for the benefit of the neighbourhood and for improvement which are to be put in force and the terms and conditions on which provided the necessary consents are given thereto they are prepared to certify that it is expedient the Provisional Order should be confirmed by Parliament that is to say:

COMMONS ACT, 1876 (CASTOR AND AILSWORTH OPEN FIELDS AND COMMONS).

REPORT by the BOARD OF AGRICULTURE upon an Application for a Provisional Order for the Inclosure of CASTOR AND AILSWORTH OPEN FIELDS AND COMMONS.

Board of Agriculture,
20 March 1895.

T. H. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

REPORT by the BOARD OF AGRICULTURE upon an Application for a Provisional Order for the Inclosure of Castor and Ailsworth Open Fields and Commons.

APPLICATION was made under the Commons Act, 1876, for a Provisional Order for the inclosure of the open arable fields, pastures, meadows and waste lands in the parishes of Castor and Ailsworth, in the county of Northampton.

After all necessary notices had been given, and a local inquiry with public meetings held, a Provisional Order was framed by the Board, and, the requisite consents having been given to it, the Board certify that it is expedient that such Provisional Order, a copy of which is hereto annexed, should be confirmed by Parliament, for the reasons hereinafter detailed, it having been proved to the satisfaction of the Board that the proposed inclosure would be of benefit to the neighbourhood as well as to private interests.

The area of the parishes of Castor and Ailsworth is 4,976 acres, of which more than 3,600 acres are in the uninclosed state. The open lands, three-fourths of the entire area, lie mostly together, surrounding the villages and parts of the inclosed fields, and extending 2½ miles from north to south and two from east to west. About 2,425 acres are arable fields, 815 acres common pastures and lammas meadows, and the remainder, 370 acres, waste lands; but of these last only Oldfield Common and the strips connected with it or lying interspersed among the open fields, comprising together about 260 acres, are included in the Provisional Order. Ailsworth Heath, about 110 acres, which lies apart from the open lands, is not proposed to be dealt with under these proceedings.

In this large extent of land there is a good deal of variation in the nature and productive capacity of the soil. The lower portions near the river Nene are a rich loam, while Oldfield Common and the higher parts of the open fields are of poorer quality.

The open fields, pastures, and the lammas meadows are held in known acres by the various owners. The first-named are cropped on the three-field system, one-third being fallow each year. The commoners are entitled to turn their stock on to the fields in common, after the crops have been removed, but on the fallow portion the common right may be exercised throughout the year. The pastures and lammas meadows are enjoyed in severalty by the owners between the 14th February and the 12th August, after which they are open for depasturing in common. The rights over the waste lands, the soil of which belongs to the lord of the manor, may be exercised all the year round. Besides the ordinary rights in respect of land which are limited by the usual rule of levancy and couchancy, certain other rights are claimed apart from the ownership of land, each of such rights being deemed of equal value, and entitling the owner to turn out 10 sheep and three beasts.

The homesteads are mostly in the villages, while each farm is composed of a large number of small parcels in the open fields, often wide apart, so that cultivation is both difficult and costly. The right of common to which the lands are subject during part of the year is a further hindrance to their profitable cultivation. It is not surprising that under such a system there has always been difficulty in obtaining tenants for the farms, and the recent years of depression have intensified the difficulty. A consolidation of the farms, which could only be brought about by inclosure, would lead to an improved and more economical system of cultivation, and afford the owners a possibility of farming with a profit. The waste lands are a good deal scattered among the open fields; they are poor in quality, and are not convenient either for the exercise of common rights or for purposes of recreation, a considerable part consisting of mere headways or balks to the different holdings. It would be scarcely possible to carry out an efficient and satisfactory scheme of inclosure of the open fields without inclosing these wastes at the same time.

The bulk of the land to be dealt with, 3,240 acres out of the 3,500, is practically private property, though subject to be depastured in common by the stock of the owners during part of the year. The commons in the usual meaning of the word comprise 260 acres or thereabouts, and it is only in respect of these that allotments for recreation grounds and for field gardens could in strict law be required. But the owners are quite willing that ample provision for both purposes should be made by setting out large allotments in the best and most convenient parts of the open fields, and it is accordingly provided that 86 acres in all, of land much above the average quality and value, shall be so set out, 44 acres for recreation grounds, and 42 acres for field-gardens. The recreation grounds will consist of 6 acres close to the village of Castor, 6 acres close to that of Ailsworth, a pretty sloping bank by the riverside with green walks to the village of Castor, comprising 17 acres, and 6 acres on Oldfield Common, with wide green ways thereto from both villages, making 15 acres. There is power under the Inclosure Acts for the trustees of recreation allotments to let the grass and herbage growing thereon, so that if it should be thought desirable cottagers and others, on payment of a small consideration, could be granted the privilege of turning their stock to feed on the 44 acres, subject to necessary rules; and such a privilege would probably be more appreciated than any benefit at present derived from Oldfield Common, which is remote and poor in quality. Ailsworth Heath, 110 acres, which lies apart from the lands proposed to be inclosed, will remain open, subject to the same rights as heretofore: it appears to be more resorted to as an open space than Oldfield Common.

The allotments for field-gardens are to be 14 acres on one side of Castor village and 12 acres on another side, and 16 acres close to Ailsworth village. This provision will allow of a quarter of an acre on an average being let to the occupier of each of the existing cottages, and the surplus rents arising from the letting will be applicable to the hire or purchase of additional land for the same purpose, should more be in course of time required. There does not appear to have been hitherto any great demand for gardens in the place.

It is also provided that a suitable bathing place shall be set out and inclosed on the bank of the river Nene, at a convenient spot:—that the following objects of interest, namely, a tree called Salter's Tree, which forms a landmark; the old Roman road called Ermine-street, and two blocks of stone, locally known as Robin Hood and Little John, shall be preserved; and that such roads and paths shall be set out as in the judgment of the Board may be convenient for public use, with the proviso that the width between the fences of any such roads or paths, and of any existing unfenced roads or paths across the lands to be inclosed shall be such as, regard being had to their public character, the Board may in each case direct.

The proportion of the waste lands to be allotted in respect of the ownership of the soil and the minerals is one-sixteenth in value.

The nearest part of the land referred to in this report is about three miles from Peterborough, which has a population of 25,171. Notices of the application for inclosure and of the local inquiry were served upon the local authority there, but nobody appeared at the public meetings on behalf of the Corporation, and no communication from that body has been received by the Board respecting the proposed inclosure. There is no other populous place in the neighbourhood. Castor has 634 inhabitants and Ailsworth 286, their occupation being entirely agricultural; the population has decreased to a small extent of late years, owing it is said to the prevailing agricultural depression.

Of the two public meetings held in the course of the local inquiry that in the morning was attended by 28 persons, mostly farmers or others interested in the lands proposed to be inclosed.

At the evening meeting the attendance was large, there being about 100 persons present, a large proportion belonging to the labouring classes. Throughout the proceedings no dissent with respect to the proposed inclosure has been expressed, and it appears to be regarded in the neighbourhood as a measure which would be beneficial to all interests, public and private.

(HIGH ROAD WELL MOOR, HALIFAX.)

REPORT by the BOARD of AGRICULTURE upon an Application for a Provisional Order for the Regulation of HIGH ROAD WELL MOOR, HALIFAX.

Board of Agriculture,

REPORT by the BOARD of AGRICULTURE upon an Application for a Provisional Order for the Regulation of High Road Well Moor, Halifax.

APPLICATION was made under the Commons Act, 1876, for a Provisional Order for the Regulation of High Road Well Moor, in the Borough of Halifax.

After all necessary notices had been given, and a local inquiry with public meetings held, a Provisional Order was framed by the Board, and, the requisite consents having been given to it, the Board certify that it is expedient that such Provisional Order, a copy of which is hereto annexed, should be confirmed by Parliament, for the reasons hereinafter detailed, it having been proved to the satisfaction of the Board that the proposed regulation would be of benefit to the neighbourhood.

The tract known as High Road Well Moor contains only about eight acres. It is a remnant of the waste lands of Skircoat Manor, the greater part of which was several years ago acquired by the Corporation of Halifax, and converted into a recreation ground. It lies just within the western boundary of the borough. About an acre and three-quarters are level grass land, the rest being rough and stony, and there are the remains of an old quarry. It forms a rocky cliff 825 feet above the sea level, and overlooks an extensive and beautiful range of country.

The object of the Provisional Order is to place the Moor under the management and control of the Corporation, with a view to its improvement and preservation as an open space and recreation ground, a right of free access being reserved to the inhabitants. The lord of the manor and the freeholders consent to the proposal, which has the cordial support of the surrounding population. There are five recreation grounds, containing together more than 120 acres, in different parts of the borough, but none in the immediate neighbourhood of High Road Well Moor. It is, therefore, very desirable that the tract should be secured in perpetuity as an open space. Two gentlemen have promised to bear the whole cost of carrying out such improvements as may be necessary to make the ground suitable and attractive as a place of public resort. The only expense which the Corporation will have to provide for will be the yearly outlay for maintenance, and this they have undertaken to contribute.

The public meetings, one held in the morning and one in the evening, were each attended by about 30 persons, representing various classes. The opinions expressed were unanimously in favour of the proposal to vest the Moor in the Corporation for the purposes above mentioned.

PROVISIONAL ORDER FOR THE REGULATION OF HIGH ROAD WELL MOOR, HALIFAX.

WHEREAS the Mayor Aldermen and Burgesses of the Borough of Halifax with the consent of persons representing at least one-third in value of the interests in certain lands called or known as High Road Well Moor situate in the said Borough of Halifax in the County of York such lands being a Common within the meaning of "The Inclosure Acts 1845 to 1882" and hereinafter referred to as "the Common" have made application to the Board of Agriculture to issue a Provisional Order for the regulation of the Common and to certify that it is expedient that such Provisional Order should be confirmed by Parliament:

And whereas the said officer having caused public notice to be given as required by the said Acts held pursuant to the said notice public meetings at the Town Hall Halifax on the 7th and 8th January 1895 at the respective hours of 11 in the forenoon and 8.30 in the evening to hear all persons desirous of being heard on the subject-matter of the said application and any information or evidence which might be offered in relation thereto and inquired into the correctness of the statements in the said application and otherwise into the expediency of making the Provisional Order applied for and into the nature of the provisions to be inserted in such Provisional Order:

And whereas the said officer inspected the Common as required by the said Acts:

And whereas the said officer duly reported in writing to the said Board the result of the local inquiry and of the public meetings held by him together with the information obtained by him as to the several particulars in the said application and all other information required by the said Acts and annexed to his report a sketch map of the Common a copy of which map is deposited in the office of the said Board:

And whereas the Corporation of the Borough of Halifax to which borough the Common is suburban within the meaning of the said Acts have with the sanction of the said Board entered into an undertaking to contribute such sums as may from time to time be necessary for the maintenance and the management of the Common:

Provisions to be inserted in award. That for the purpose of giving complete effect to this Provisional Order there shall be inserted in the Award to be made in pursuance of the said Acts such provisions not inconsistent with such Acts as the said Board shall think desirable and proper.

COMMONS ACT, 1876
(UPTON ST. LEONARDS COMMON FIELDS).

REPORT by the BOARD OF AGRICULTURE upon an Application for a Provisional Order for the Inclosure of UPTON ST. LEONARDS COMMON FIELDS.

Board of Agriculture,
8 April 1895.

T. H. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

REPORT by the BOARD OF AGRICULTURE upon an Application for a Provisional Order for the Inclosure of Upton St. Leonards Common Fields.

APPLICATION was made under the Commons Act, 1876, for a Provisional Order for the Inclosure of the Common Fields situate in the parish of Upton St. Leonards, in the County of Gloucester.

After all necessary notices had been given, and a local inquiry with public meetings had been held, a Provisional Order was framed by the Board, and, the requisite consents having been given to it, the Board certify that it is expedient that such Provisional Order, a copy of which is hereto annexed, should be confirmed by Parliament, for the reasons hereinafter detailed, it having been proved to the satisfaction of the Board that the proposed inclosure would be of benefit to the neighbourhood, as well as to private interests.

The land proposed to be inclosed consists of about 534 acres, 520 arable and 14 pasture. It is in fourteen tracts in different parts of the parish. None of it is "common" in the usual acceptation of the word, but it is all common-field land, held in severalty by the various owners during part of the year until the crops are removed, and after harvest subject to be depastured in common by the stock of the freeholders. Each tract is made up of a number of unfenced strips, of which there are in all about 1,100, of the average size of half an acre, belonging to more than 80 owners. The strips of each owner are generally most inconveniently scattered. Many of the holdings are very small, being only three acres and under, while some contain as little as a quarter of an acre. Under the present system the cultivation of the land is necessarily both difficult and costly, and can scarcely be carried on with profit, while permanent improvement is out of the question. Some of the lands have been allowed to go out of cultivation.

No part of the land being waste of a manor, or subject to rights of common at all times of the year, the setting out of allotments for field-gardens and recreation-grounds could not in strictness be insisted upon under the Inclosure Acts. The owners generally are, however, willing that reasonable provision should be made for both purposes, and it is a condition of the Provisional Order that 15 acres, in four different places to accommodate the population, shall be set out for field-gardens, and that six acres, in a pasture field near the village, which have, by permission, been used for playing cricket, shall be made subject to the operation of the inclosure, and allotted permanently as a recreation ground. The setting out of these allotments will, of course, diminish the area to be allotted to the various owners, and on that account the proposal was not regarded favourably by some of the persons interested in the land. It appears that the cottages in the parish usually have gardens attached, varying in size, but of the average of about one-eighth of an acre. Nine acres of Charity land are, under the provisions of the trust, let in allotments, but, on account of the quality and situation, this land is not very readily taken up. The Board were of opinion that, besides the recreation ground in the village, another should be provided for the use of the inhabitants at the Gloucester or Saintbridge end of the parish. In order to prevent any further diminution in the allotments to the smaller owners, one of the largest proprietors has, with the Board's approval, undertaken, in the event of the Provisional Order being confirmed by Parliament, to make a free gift of six acres of very suitable grass land, in a convenient position, and to convey it to the Parish Council as a recreation ground. There are two small commons in the parish, Sneedham Green, 11 acres, and Cut Hill, 18 acres, which will not be affected by the inclosure of the common-fields, but will remain open subject to the same rights as heretofore; they have not, however, up to the present time, been resorted to for recreation, and are not very conveniently situated for the purpose.

The

The nearest of the tracts to Gloucester is about two miles in a direct line from the centre of the city, which has a population of 39,444. The other tracts are at distances varying from 2½ to 4½ miles. Upton St. Leonards has 1,666 inhabitants: those living near the Gloucester end of the parish are almost entirely clerks, artisans and others employed in the city, and of those living in or near the village of Upton part are occupied in agricultural pursuits, but the majority go to work in Gloucester daily.

Of the two meetings held in the course of the local inquiry, that in the morning was attended by about 40 persons, most of whom, and about 50 others, were present also in the evening. Those present belonged to every class, and included a large number of labourers and artisans. The Corporation of Gloucester were also represented. At the morning meeting one of the residents in the parish expressed himself as opposed to the inclosure of the common-fields, on the ground that in his opinion the existing system of holding the lands afforded greater facility for the labourers to obtain small portions for cultivation near their cottages; but it should be borne in mind that any such occupation would be liable to interruption during a considerable part of the year by the depasturing of the stock of the freeholders. Some of the smaller owners did not appear favourable to the inclosure, not however because they had any objection to the open fields being divided into convenient holdings, but because they were afraid that their holdings might be seriously diminished by the provision for recreation grounds and field gardens.

The Board are of opinion that the desire of the owners to consolidate their holdings, and to free the land from common rights, is a reasonable one, and that the facilities applied for should be granted, subject to the provisions which have been mentioned for securing recreation grounds and field gardens for the benefit of the neighbourhood.

Provisional Order for the Inclosure of a Common.

Whereas persons interested in certain lands called or known as The Common Fields situate in the parish of Upton Saint Leonards in the County of Gloucester such lands being a common within the meaning of "The Inclosure Acts 1845 to 1882" have made application to the Board of Agriculture to issue a Provisional Order for the inclosure of such lands and to certify that it is expedient that such Provisional Order should be confirmed by Parliament:

And whereas it has been made to appear to the said Board that the persons making the said application represent at least one-third in value of such interests in the said lands as are proposed to be affected by the Provisional Order:

And whereas the said Board having taken the said application into consideration were satisfied that a primâ facie case had been made out and that regard being had to the benefit of the neighbourhood as well as to private interests it was expedient to proceed further in the matter and accordingly ordered a local inquiry to be held by an officer of the Board:

And whereas the said officer having caused public notice to be given as required by the said Acts held pursuant to the said notice public meetings at the parish reading room Upton Saint Leonards aforesaid on the 29th and 30th days of March 1894 at the respective hours of half-past ten in the morning and half-past seven in the evening to hear all persons desirous of being heard on the subject-matter of the said application and any information or evidence which might be offered in relation thereto and inquired into the correctness of the statements in the said application and otherwise into the expediency of making the Provisional Order applied for and into the nature of the provisions to be inserted in such Provisional Order:

And whereas the said Officer inspected the said lands as required by the said Acts:

And whereas the said Officer duly reported in writing to the said Board the result of the local inquiry and of the public meetings held by him together with the information obtained by him as to the several particulars in the said application and all other information required by the said Acts and annexed to his report a sketch map of the said lands a copy of which map is deposited in the office of the said Board:

And whereas after the said application for a Provisional Order had been made to the said Board Sir Herbert George Denman Croft of Lugwardine Court in the County of Hereford Baronet and James Richard Upton of No. 14 Austin Friars in the City of London Solicitor the persons interested within the meaning of the said Acts in certain land not subject to the operation of the proposed inclosure (which land is tinted green on the map hereinbefore referred to and contains six acres) duly made application to the said Board to submit such land to the operation of the said proposed inclosure under the provisions of the said Acts:

And

And whereas the said Board duly gave notice by advertisement in two successive weeks of their intention to embody in their Provisional Order in the matter of the said inclosure such directions in reference to the said application of the said Sir Herbert George Denman Croft and James Richard Upton as might be necessary to carry out the desire of the said Sir Herbert George Denman Croft and James Richard Upton to submit their said land to the operation of the said proposed inclosure.

And whereas one calendar month has elapsed from the publication of the last of such advertisements and no notice of dissent from such proposed directions has been given to the said Board:

Now therefore in pursuance of the powers given to them by the Board of Agriculture Act 1889 and the said Acts the Board of Agriculture being satisfied that having regard to the benefit of the neighbourhood as well as to private interests the inclosure of the said lands is desirable have framed for the consideration of the persons interested this Draft Provisional Order specifying the terms and conditions on which provided the necessary consents are given thereto they are prepared to certify that it is expedient the Provisional Order should be confirmed by Parliament that is to say:

Since the passing of the Act of 1891 to the 31st March, 1895, we have received 9,027 applications for £2,811,478, of these 960 for £323,478 have been refused.

XCII. XCVIII. XCIII. C. CVIII. Total loans sanctioned and issued.

The total amount which has been provisionally sanctioned is £1,716,154 in respect of 4,973 applications, as well as 1,029 applications for loans for £243,917 in respect of sales in the Land Judge's Court. We have issued altogether during the same period 4,951 loans for £1,653,444, which does not include 36 loans for £35,248 issued under the Redemption of Rent Act.

Pending applications.

The proceedings towards the issue of £306,627, the difference between the amounts sanctioned and issued, are now in various stages of progress.

Returns required by statute. XCIII. XCIX.

The periodical return required by the 33rd Section of the Act has been sent forward by us for presentation to Parliament, setting forth in the prescribed form complete particulars of every case in which an advance has been made during the year ended 31st March, 1895, including the date of the advances, the names of vendor and purchaser, the situation, size, rateable value, and rent of each holding, the amount of the purchase-money, advance, and guarantee deposit.

Summary of particulars.

The ADVANCES made by us between 1st April, 1894, and 31st March, 1895, in each Province and for the whole of Ireland, are as follows :—

PROVINCE.	Area.	Rent.	Purchase Money.	Advance.

Allocation of the sum available for purchase in proportion to the value of holdings, sec. 11, Purchase Act, 1891. CI.

In the Return which will be found in the Appendix, we state the total amount of the advances for which applications were received by us during the period under review (and which appeared to us likely to be sanctioned) in respect of each county in Ireland for the purchase of holdings, the rental of which respectively exceeded, and did not exceed, a rental of £50.

REDEMPTION OF RENT ACT.

Proceedings in purchase cases under Redemption of Rent Act. CIV. CIII. CVI.

832 applications under the Redemption of Rent Act have been received since the passing of the Act up to the 31st March, 1895, of which 56 have been received during the year. In 137 cases the landlord consented in the prescribed manner to the redemption of the rent. The total amount of the prices fixed by us in 92 cases, embracing 49 estates in which we made orders for redemption, was £91,580, in respect of a total rental of the holdings, as stated in the applications, of £6,205 13*s.* 1*d.*, and the total advances sanctioned in respect of the prices so fixed was £84,403. In 29 cases the applications for redemption were refused, and 16 cases have not been adjudicated upon.

Proceedings in fair rent cases under Redemption of Rent Act. CIV.

Out of the total number of applications received by us under this Act, the landlords did not consent to the redemption in 695 cases, and consequently the lessees or grantees were, as the Statute and Rules provide, deemed to have made applications as if they were leaseholders under the Act of 1887 to have a judicial rent fixed; and in 1 case where an application has been received the time to consent has not yet expired.

Number of judicial rents fixed. X.

In 426 of such cases judicial rents have been fixed. The former rental was £30,282, the judicial rental amounts to £22,681, showing a reduction of 25 per cent. 122 applications have been dismissed or struck out, and 45 have been withdrawn; thus 102 cases await hearing.

General Summary of Proceedings under Purchase Acts during Period under Review.

APPENDIX TABLE NO.

General statement of proceedings under Purchase Acts during period under review.

In the foregoing paragraphs we have given separately the general results of the proceedings under the Land Purchase Acts of 1885 and 1891, but taking the proceedings under both Acts in the aggregate during the period between the 1st April, 1894, and 31st March, 1895, 281 applications for £135,991 were rejected, 2,261 applications for £703,975 were provisionally sanctioned, and 3,359 loans, amounting to £1,087,474, were issued. 4,063 Vesting Orders were executed. Rulings have been issued upon all abstracts of title lodged up to the 31st March last.

Appeals in Land Purchase Cases.

Purchase appeals.

During the period under review 12 appeals against the decision of one Commissioner acting alone in carrying the Purchase Acts into effect were heard by the Judicial Commissioner and two other Commissioners, pursuant to the 29th section of the Act of 1891 (in one case for the hearing of an appeal a Judge of the High Court acted as Judicial Commissioner), and one appeal in a case arising under the Redemption of Rent Act has similarly been disposed of.

Appeals on questions of law only.

During the same period, 5 appeals and requisitions, which had reference to questions of law only, were heard by the Judicial Commissioner sitting alone, and 4 appeals were similarly heard by one of the Judges of the High Court, acting as a Judicial Commissioner for the purpose of the Land Purchase Acts.

Payment of Purchasers' Instalments.

Payment of Instalments Act, 1885 and 1891.

On the 1st November last, the total amount payable in respect of advances under the Act of 1885 for the half-year's interest and instalments which had then become due, including arrears amounting to £7,067 unpaid on that date, was £201,891, payable by 24,324 payers. Of this amount £190,149 had been paid on 31st March, 1895, by 23,158 payers, leaving £11,742 due by 1,166 purchasers. Of this sum £7,789 due by 992 persons is in respect of the half-year's instalment which accrued on the 1st November, 1894. The £11,742 in arrear on 31st March last has been reduced at the date of this report to £7,840 due by 798 purchasers.

With regard to the payment of the instalments created under the Purchase of Land Act, 1891, the amount receivable on the 1st November last, from 3,065 payers was £24,560 7*s.* 10*d.*, of this £24,166 16*s.* 3*d.* has been received, leaving £393 11*s.* 7*d.* to be recovered from 29 payers.

Cases where default has arisen.

The holdings of fifty-one purchasers who made default in payment of their instalments were advertised for sale during the period covered by this Report.

In thirty-six of these cases the sales were withdrawn, the arrears having been paid; in seven cases the holdings were sold to ordinary purchasers; in two cases where there was no competition the holding was purchased by the former landlord; and in six cases, in which there were no bidders, the holdings are in the hands of the Land Commission, pending re-sale.

Local Registration of Title Act.

Number of Titles registered.

During the year under review the titles of purchasers in 5,155 cases have been registered pursuant to the provisions of the Act.

Registration in cases of past sales.

With reference to the registration of the titles of cases where the sales were completed before the 1st of January, 1892, during the year 1,907 statements and applications have been prepared, and sent to the parties for verification, 1,015 applications have been lodged with the Local Registrars. Requisitions for searches and rulings on the title have been issued by the Registrar with respect to 1,428 applications. In these cases some delay occurred in making the requisite searches for transfers and incumbrances by the owner between the date of the original sale to him and the lodging of the application to register the title. In 338 cases certificates of title have been issued.

During the period since 1893, when Treasury sanction was first obtained to apply for registration in such cases, 3,985 statements and applications have been sent to the parties for verification, 2,255 applications have been lodged with the Local Registrars, and 353 Land Certificates have been issued.

APPENDIX TABLE No.

As stated in our last report, at the date thereof, 7,371 cases had been entered in our books, in which we had arranged with the parties to undertake the preliminary investigation of title requisite to the filing by us of the application for registration.

Neglect on part of Purchasers to furnish information.

In a considerable number of cases in which the statement and form of application has been prepared and sent to the parties for verification, they have taken no further steps to assist the Commission in completing the registration. Much apathy and disinclination appears to exist in taking any trouble to verify the application, or to explain dealings with the holdings which have occurred since the dates of the original purchases, and in many cases the parties seem to be indifferent as to whether their titles are registered or not. This indifference to the advantages conferred by the Act (which the Commissioners have taken every opportunity to explain to the parties concerned) is much to be regretted, and the Commissioners are apprehensive that considerable embarrassment will hereafter be caused both to them and to the parties themselves if irregular sales and other transactions affecting the holding continue to be carried out without reference to the provision of the 25th Section of the Statute, which enacts that:—

"The following provision shall apply to all freehold land the registration of which is by this Act declared to be compulsory. A person shall not, under any conveyance executed on or after the commencement of this Act, acquire any estate in any such land until he is registered as owner of the land, but on being so registered his title shall relate back to the date of the execution of the conveyance, and any dealings with the land before the registration shall have effect accordingly."

Agricultural Department.

CXIV. Collection of prices of produce.

The collection and publication of the prevailing prices of Irish agricultural produce has been continued: statistics of the prices of grass seeds have been added to the returns.

In order that the returns may indicate the range of the market prices of wheat oats, barley, flax, potatoes, hay, pork, butter, eggs, and wool, the highest and lowest prices quoted for each of the above-mentioned products in the returns of prices supplied weekly to the Commissioners are given for each month included in the period to which the return refers during which transactions in the articles mentioned are reported, in addition to the monthly average prices as hitherto reported; the average of the highest and lowest prices of the months are returned as the average highest and lowest prices respectively for the year. The returns of prices of the articles of produce mentioned as now issued thus represent the average price and the range of prices prevailing for each article during the period to which the return relates.

Diagrams showing the prices of beef, mutton, store stock, and Irish agricultural produce sold in Ireland for the quarter ended the 31st March, 1895, will be found in the Appendix.

Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887 & 1891.

Exemption Orders have been issued to eighty market authorities for fairs at which they showed to the Commissioners that only small quantities of stock are offered for sale, or in respect of which for other sufficient reasons it is not considered necessary to require them to provide weighing accommodation.

Since 1st April, 1894, eighteen market authorities have been required to provide weighing accommodation, or to add to, or otherwise improve the previously existing weighing accommodation; the market authorities at Londonderry, Enniskillen, Boyle, and Crumlin, have complied with the requirements of the Commissioners, and it is expected that the necessary accommodation will be provided in the immediate future for the other markets and fairs referred to.

The arrangements provided at several other important fairs have been inspected during the year, and orders are about to be issued requiring improved weighing accommodation to be provided.

The Commissioners have learned that there is a steady increase in the number of cattle weighed annually at several fairs, at which proper weighing accommodation and equipments have been provided, but farmers, hitherto, as a rule have shown very little disposition to appreciate the value of the weigh-bridge when selling their stock at fairs; this may be accounted for by their habitual disinclination to adopt new methods, by the strong opposition of dealers and butchers, who it is known at times refuse to purchase cattle which have been weighed, and also by the very unsuitable weighing accommodation which has frequently been provided. It is believed that when improved weighing accommodation has been provided at the more important fairs farmers, as in Scotland, will more generally make use of it, perceiving that the opposition thereto is generally interested, and will recognize that it is to their advantage to know the weight of stock when selling and to ascertain the live weight prices prevalent elsewhere for similar classes of stock.

The Agricultural Department of the Land Commission has continued to carry out the working of the Schemes approved by the Congested Districts Board for Ireland for the improvement of Agriculture and kindred subjects, particulars of which will be found in the Reports issued by the Board. Congested Districts Board for Ireland. APPENDIX TABLE NO.

Prevention of Potato Disease.

During the period under review a further series of experiments was carried out at the Royal Botanic Gardens, Glasnevin, under the direction of Mr. F. W. Moore, M.R.I.A., in continuation of those conducted at the same place in 1893, with a view to ascertaining: Further experiments made in year.

1. Whether any portion of the copper contained in Bordeaux Mixture as applied to the potato plant finds its way into the tissues of the foliage, and if so, how, and in what form.

2. Whether the potato plant is rendered practically disease-proof by the absorption of copper by the tissues of the leaf, although all traces of the dressing may have been removed by rain.

The analyses made in connection with these experiments were conducted by Sir Charles A. Cameron, Professor of Chemistry, R.C.S.I., who, with Mr. Moore, kindly afforded his valuable advice and assistance in arranging the necessary details.

The Champion variety of potato was selected as the most suitable for experiment, the sets were planted in the end of March, 1894, the ground thus planted being divided into twelve plots which were differently treated. The details of the experiments and of the results will be found in the Appendix.

The result of these experiments so far has not been on the whole satisfactory, but owing to the extreme importance of the whole subject to occupiers of land in Ireland, especially to the occupiers of small holdings, it would seem desirable that it should be thoroughly investigated by specialists, as several important matters in connection therewith at present rest in uncertainty, and such investigations would possibly throw light upon a point of considerable importance to agriculturists, namely, whether Bordeaux Mixture, or a substitute therefor, can be prepared at a less cost, or with greater security from liability of error in its preparation owing to the use of unsuitable materials, than at present. Such investigations would necessarily have to be carried out with very great care and attention, but it is believed that the information which would be derived therefrom would amply repay the trouble and cost incurred. Result of experiments.

In addition to the experiments above referred to, a series of field demonstrations were conducted on fourteen farms in the Counties of Antrim and Londonderry, on nine of which a statute perch of the produce of the sprayed and of the unsprayed portions of the fields was weighed for purposes of comparison. On nine plots sprayed with Bordeaux Mixture the average yield of sound marketable potatoes was 6 tons 17 cwts. 27 lbs., as against 4 tons 19 cwts. 61 lbs. on the nine untreated plots, or an average increase of 1 ton 17 cwts. 78 lbs. per statute acre, equal to an increase of 27 per cent. of marketable potatoes. Very wet weather prevailed at the period during which the demonstrations were carried out, and therefore it became necessary to considerably curtail the number of demonstrations intended. The same cause, although notices were issued through the press as to the dates and places on which the demonstrations would take place, prevented as full an attendance of local farmers as was anticipated, but it is hoped that in the districts in which the demonstrations were carried out, attention will be aroused when the results become known, and that, as has occurred in other districts in which field experiments were in former years conducted, spraying machines will be purchased for use during the ensuing season. From inquiries made by us it appears that over 2,000 Knapsack Spraying Machines have been sold in Ireland in the present year. Field demonstration.

Authority has been obtained to carry out further demonstrations during the coming season.

The results obtained by spraying at nine of the places at which demonstrations were conducted are given in the Appendix, the results were not ascertained at the five other places at which demonstrations were held.

Financial.

The total amount of Loans issued in cash by the Land Commission since the passing of the Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881, under the Land Purchase Acts (exclusive of the Arrears Act, 1882, and the Purchase of Land Act, 1891), and the Tramways and Public Companies Acts, up to the date of this Report, has been £10,141,157. The total amount of principal re-paid by the purchasing tenants has been £475,460 17*s.* 7*d.*, the interest paid by them has been £1,476,208 15*s.* 7*d.* Amount of Loans issued by Commission.

APPENDIX TABLE No. CX. Statement as to advances.

The detailed statement in the Appendix includes advances made by us under the 59th Section of the Land Law Act of 1881, in payment of arrears of rent, the total amount advanced being £18,793, of which £18,201 has been repaid, and excludes advances made under the Purchase of Land Act, 1891, as the advances under that Act are made in Guaranteed Land Stock.

Guaranteed Land Stock.

Pursuant to Section 17 of the Act of 1891, we transferred Guaranteed Land Stock to the amount of £11,112 10*s.* 3*d.* to the Church Temporalities account for the redemption moneys of tithe rent charges and head rents, the property of the late Established Church, ordered to be redeemed in various purchase transactions. Arrangements have been made whereby such stock is now taken over from us by the National Debt Commissioners at a price equivalent to that of Consols at the date of the transfer.

Documents issued from Record Department.

12,473 copies of documents were issued from the Office of the Keeper of Records, in addition to which 17,277 folios of other miscellaneous documents were issued, for which the amount received from the public, for scrivenery and other fees, amounted to £716 19*s.* 5*d.* In addition to the above 882 copies of Land Certificates were issued to Tenant Purchasers free of cost.

Temporalities of Late Established Church.

CXI. Amount of income during year.

The property of the late Established Church which was vested in the Land Commission in 1881, produced during the year a total income of £637,502, including £65,282, the proceeds of sales of property and the redemption of income. Out of the sums so received, and the balances in hand on 31st March, 1894, total payments have been made by us during the year amounting to £709,159 which include special payments of £133,500, over and above the fixed charges on the fund and which have been applied in reduction of our debt to the National Debt Commissioners.

Annual liabilities on Church Fund. higher than annual income.

The annual rental receivable for the present year taken on the 1st April, 1895, is £520,391 the fixed charges on the Fund with cost allowed for administration taken on the same date amount to £576,774, thus exceeding the rental by £56,383. This excess, it may be anticipated, can be covered, and the indebtedness of the Fund further reduced, as in past years, out of the moneys received from redemptions and for arrears on the rental due at the commencement of the year.

Annual disbursements now charged on the Fund amounting in the aggregate to about £328,000 for the payment of certain capital debts due to the National Debt Commissioners will, under existing arrangements, terminate in about six years from the present.

The amount of arrears due to the Fund at the commencement of the financial year has been reduced by £41,773, and now amounts to £122,243.

Statement as to revenue and expenditure.

In the Appendix will be found a statement of the particulars of the Revenue as it stands at present, and of the expenditure to be met.

By payments made since the property vested, the total liability, inclusive of charges imposed by the Legislature since 1881, has been reduced to £7,713,548; the annuity for £20,000 for the Royal University, which is not a capital charge, is not included.

Decrease of total liability since 1881.

The original debt of £9,000,000 for the purposes of the Church Act, and due to the Commissioners for the reduction of National Debt, has been reduced to £1,629,084. At the date of our last report the amount was £1,991,696.

Purchase by Church tenants.

Advances of Guaranteed Land Stock amounting to £17,538 have been made under the Purchase Act of 1891, during the year, to 57 tenants of the Church property to enable them to purchase their holdings.

Prevention of Potato Disease.

Particulars and Results of the Experiments conducted at the Royal Botanic Gardens, Glasnevin.

One series of experiments was conducted with a view to ascertaining if the foliage of the potato plant is rendered practically disease-proof by the proper application of Bordeaux Mixture thereto, even when all traces of the dressing may have been subsequently removed by rain, and in that case how long the dressing should remain on the foliage before it is washed off in order that the foliage may successfully resist disease.

It was further hoped by this series of experiments to ascertain whether any portion of the copper contained in the Bordeaux Mixture finds its way into the tissues of the foliage, and, if so, to what extent.

For the purposes of this series of experiments Champion potatoes were planted in selected plots in March, 1894, each plot containing a specified number of plants.

Arrangements were made for protecting the plants when fully developed by means of glass frames, from rain, the frames being so supported as to permit of the free circulation of air around the plants from both sides and ends of the plots.

On a particular date all the plots, except those reserved as test plots, were dressed with Bordeaux Mixture, immediately after which all except certain test plots were, as stated, covered with glass frames to protect the foliage from rain : at specified intervals varying from six hours to fourteen days after the application of the first dressing, the latter was thoroughly washed from the foliage of certain plots by syringing with water, the amount of water thus used being greater than that which would have fallen on the plots during their period of growth in a very wet season ; certain plots were left unwashed as test plots : immediately after being syringed with water the foliage of two plants in each plot was cut and forwarded to Sir Charles Cameron for analysis.

On a fixed date the foliage of potato plants affected by disease was introduced in all the plots with a view to propagating disease ; throughout the period of the experiments accurate notes were taken as to the general health and appearance of the plants and the first indication and subsequent progress of disease in each plot. Previous to analysis the stalks and foliage of all plants analysed were thoroughly washed so as to remove all traces of Bordeaux Mixture adhering thereto.

The results obtained from this series of experiments were not satisfactory. The analysis made of the foliage from duplicate plots varied considerably, and it was not possible to form any conclusions from the period at which or the extent to which disease appeared in the foliage of any of the plots. It is not necessary, therefore, to give further details as to the treatment of the several plots and the analysis of samples of foliage taken therefrom.

The results obtained in pot experiments referred to below appear to indicate that the contradictory and inconclusive results obtained in the plot experiments are probably due to various unobserved circumstances affecting the plants in the several plots. It is regretted that these experiments have thrown no light upon a question which is of importance to potato growers—namely, are potato plants which have been dressed with Bordeaux Mixture capable of largely resisting disease although the dressing applied may have been washed off by rain to a considerable extent at some period soon after its application, and, if so, what period should elapse between the application of the dressing and its subsequent removal by rain in order that the plants may be fairly capable of resisting disease ?

The importance to agriculturists of obtaining accurate information on this point is not to be estimated merely by the cost of the dressing applied, which may be rendered useless by a heavy fall of rain immediately or soon after its application. There is the graver consideration to the farmer that at a season of the year, when time is to him of great value, he will hesitate to repeat an operation which entails a considerable outlay in labour just when such labour may be urgently required to deal with the hay and green crops, and obviously these considerations will weigh more heavily in a wet season in which potato disease prevails, than in a dry season when it is less to be feared.

A further series of experiments was made with potato plants grown in pots, with the special object of ascertaining if the potato plant absorbs copper from Bordeaux Mixture applied to the foliage.

The pot plants, two in each series, were treated as described below, the foliage being cut before decay set in, and then submitted for analysis; the percentage of copper contained in the leaves and stalks of each sample as ascertained by analysis is stated after the particulars of treatment of each series.

Series 1.—The foliage of the plants was sprayed with Bordeaux Mixture in the ordinary manner :—

Percentage of Copper, . . . 0·37

Series 2.—The foliage of the plants was painted with a definite amount of Bordeaux Mixture, precautions being taken to prevent any of the mixture falling on the earth :—

Percentage of Copper, . . . 0·61

Series 3.—Bordeaux Mixture was applied as in watering to the earth in the pots, precautions being taken to prevent any of the mixture falling on the foliage :—

Percentage of Copper, . . . 0·06

Series 4.—The foliage was painted with a definite amount of a 2 per cent. solution of copper sulphate, without the addition of lime thereto :—

Percentage of Copper, . . . 0·08

Series 5.—The foliage was sprayed with Bordeaux Mixture, precautions being taken to prevent any of the spray falling on the earth in the pots :—

Percentage of Copper, . . . 0·11

The Bordeaux Mixture applied to the plants in Series 1, 2, 3, and 5 was composed of :—

Water,	. . .	100 parts by weight.
Copper Sulphate,	. . .	2 „ „
Unslaked lime,	. . .	1 „ „

The leaves of the plants in series 4 withered directly after the solution of pure copper sulphate was applied.

It will be noticed that the percentage of copper ascertained by analysis to exist in the stalks and foliage of the plants, Series 1, 2, and 5, to the foliage of which Bordeaux Mixture was applied, was 0·37, 0·61, and 0·11 respectively; the largest amount being contained in the stalks and foliage of the plants of Series 2, to the foliage of which the mixture was applied with a paint brush, thereby ensuring its application to all parts of the foliage: the amount of copper contained in the stalks and foliage of the plants of Series 3, on which series the mixture was applied only to the earth in which the plants grew, being only 0·06.

REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER AND AUDITOR GENERAL.

1. With reference to paragraph 2 of my Report of last year, relating to the loan of 42,300*l.* made in the year 1887–88 to the Irish Land Purchase and Settlement Company, I have to report that the balance of principal outstanding on 31st March 1894 amounted to 37,118*l.* 11*s.* 7*d.* I have been informed, under date of 26th September 1894, that the Liquidator recently appointed at the suit of the Land Commission was taking the steps necessary to call in the amount due upon the unpaid share capital of the Company, but that no account had been presented by him, as the Commissioners understood he had not up to that time received any assets. Loan to Land Purchase and Settlement Company.

2. With reference to paragraph 4 of my Report of last year, the repayments of expenditure incurred by the Land Commission in paying Head Rents (current or in arrear) appear to be coming in satisfactorily except in the case of the holding on the Fitzgerald Estate. The original advance of 3,000*l.* for the purchase of this holding (in respect of which no instalments have been received), together with the amount paid in 1892–93 for arrears of Head Rent (147*l.* 5*s.* 2*d.*), appear to be irrecoverable, while the Commissioners are liable for a permanent annual charge of 47*l.* 13*s.* per annum. To meet this liability the Commissioners have to rely on the receipt of a temporary grazing rent of 50*l.* per annum, which has been subject to a deduction for repairs amounting to 12*l.* 10*s.* for the first year, and a further deduction of 1*l.* 12*s.* 9*d.* for share of County Cess. Head Rents.

The sum of 1,829*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.* referred to in my Report of last year as the amount of principal lost in the cases of the three advances to M. Kennedy, C. Normoyle, and T. Normoyle, has been written off the assets of the Local Loans Fund for the Year 1893–94.

3. The numbers of Deeds and Orders relating to advances to tenants &c., which have been called for during the visits of my officers to Dublin, and which have not yet been produced for inspection, are as follows :— Inspection of Deeds.

In respect of advances in the year

1891–92	-	3,606 deeds called for ;	49	not yet produced.
1892–93	-	4,496 - ditto -	323	-	ditto.
1893–94	-	3,800 - ditto -	614	-	ditto.

I am informed that the majority of these deeds have now been completed; they will therefore be inspected at the next local examination in Dublin.

4. The Cash Balance on 31st March 1894 was, as shown by the Account, 139,709*l.* 3*s.* 11*d.* Balance on 31st March 1894.

The average rate of interest receivable in respect of the advances made last year amounts to 3*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.* per cent., being the same average rate as in 1893–94.

IV. The sum received in repayment of principal during the year ended 31st March 1895, was, as in the last six years, in excess of the sum advanced during the same period, and amounted to 2,478,137*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.* (as compared with 1,729,792*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.* in 1893–94).

Of these repayments, 1,553,973*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.* represents the amounts which were paid off by borrowers before they fell due (particulars whereof will be found in Appendix F.), as compared with 780,562*l.* 3*s.* 10*d.* paid in like manner in 1893–94.

This sum of 1,553,973*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.* bore an average rate of interest of 3*l.* 13*s.* 5*d.* per cent. per annum.

For several years past this Board have been receiving large extra repayments in respect of their loans. These repayments were made by borrowers before they became due, the borrowers finding that they could re-borrow on easier terms. The following statement shows the amount of such extra repayments during the last six years, and the average rate of interest borne by them :—

Year.	Extra Repayments.	Average Rate of Interest.
1889–90	1,062,991 8 10	3 18 7
1890–91	741,103 13 -	3 18 11
1891–92	413,556 1 7	3 15 1
1892–93	500,255 7 10	3 14 7
1893–94	780,562 3 10	3 14 4
1894–95	1,553,973 11 1	3 13 5

V. The amount received by this Board for interest during the year ended 31st March 1895, in respect of all their outstanding loans, was 932,465*l.* 13*s.* 3*d.*; and this sum, computed on the balance outstanding on 31st March 1894 (25,529,795*l.* 1*s.* 2*d.*), is equal to 3*l.* 12*s.* 11*d.* per cent. per annum, as compared with 3*l.* 12*s.* 2*d.* in the preceding year.

The following statement shows the average rate of interest received during each of the last six financial years, computed on the balance outstanding on the 31st March preceding :—

Year ended	Balance Outstanding.	Rate of Interest received during ensuing Year.
31 March 1889	27,972,182 9 1	3 12 7
31 „ 1890	26,930,575 10 1	3 11 2½
31 „ 1891	26,342,121 18 8	3 11 3
31 „ 1892	25,901,928 11 6	3 11 2
31 „ 1893	25,676,804 7 1	3 12 2
31 „ 1894	25,529,795 1 2	3 12 11

Notwithstanding the extra repayments mentioned in paragraph IV., it will be seen that the average rate of interest has increased during the last two years, which is, in a great measure, accounted for by the increased payments in respect of the arrears of interest on account of the loan for Battersea Park, the sums paid in 1893–94 and 1894–95 being 20,000*l.* and 29,700*l.* respectively, as compared with 4,500*l.* and 4,000*l.* paid in the years 1891–92 and 1892–93.

Of the sum of 1,553,973*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.* mentioned in paragraph IV., over a million was paid during the last four months of the financial year.

The effect of a borrower discharging the whole of his outstanding loan at the end of a financial year with the further interest accruing to the date of payment, in addition to his ordinary half-yearly instalments of principal and interest, is that this Board often receive more than a year's interest in respect of the loan so paid off within a financial year.

This extra payment of over a million during the last four months of the financial year has therefore operated to swell the interest received by this Board for the last financial year.

VI. Notwithstanding the large extra payments which have been made during the last few years, the number of accounts open in the Board's books have been steadily increasing, and on 31st March last they amounted to 11,371, as compared with 10,594 on 31st March 1891.

VII. Further information as to this Board's advances will be found in Appendix (A.) to this Report, which shows, under various classifications, the amount advanced during the last financial year and the repayments on account of principal and interest during the same period.

The advances by the Public Works Loan Commissioners, and the repayments in respect thereof, since the commencement of the Commission in 1817 to 31st March 1895, are also shown in separate columns in the same Appendix.

Appendix (B.) shows in detail the authorities to whom advances were made in 1894-95, the amounts previously advanced and not yet fully repaid, and the balances of principal outstanding on 31st March 1895.

Appendix (C.) is a classified summary of the outstanding balances and the rates of interest payable thereon.

Appendix (D.) shows the loans in arrear on 31st March 1895, with this Board's observations thereon.

Appendix (E.) shows the loan accounts closed during the last financial year.

Appendix (F.) shows the amounts paid by borrowers in discharge or reduction of loans before they fell due.

Appendix (G.) shows the loans, amounting to 1,732,917*l.*, which were granted by this Board during the last financial year, some of which were advanced during that year.

Appendix (H.) shows the applications for loans refused during the last financial year.

VIII. Of the loans granted during the last financial year, but in respect of which no advance was made, the following may be mentioned:—

UNDER THE HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT, 1890.

(a.) £. 11,000 to Mr. Abraham Davis, towards the cost of erecting artizans' dwellings in Spitalfields; repayable in 30 years, with interest at 4 per cent. per annum.

(b.) £. 1,875 to the New Tredegar and District General Land and Building Company (Limited), for erecting dwellings at New Tredegar, Monmouth; repayable in 40 years, with interest at 4 per cent. per annum.

Under the Military Lands Act, 1892.

(a.) £. 1,800 to the 1st Ayr and Galloway Volunteer Artillery, for purchasing the freehold of land and buildings thereon used as a Drill Hall and Headquarters by the corps at Kilmarnock; repayable in 18 years, with interest at 3½ per cent. per annum.

(b.) £. 650 to the 1st Volunteer Battalion, Cheshire Regiment, for purchasing the land at Tranmere, with the buildings thereon, at present used by the corps as a Drill Hall; repayable in 30 years, with interest at 3½ per cent. per annum.

(c.) £. 3,800 to the 3rd Volunteer Battalion, West Kent Regiment, for the purchase of the freehold of the land and premises at present used by the battalion as a Drill Hall at Beresford-street, Woolwich.

Under the Small Holdings Act, 1892.

£. 1,185 to the Ross and Cromarty County Council, for the purpose of providing small holdings in the parish of Kiltearn; repayable in 50 years, with interest at 3½ per cent. per annum.

Under the Allotments Acts.

£. 615 to the Welton Rural District Council, for the provision of allotments in the parish of Bardney; repayable in 30 years, with interest at 3½ per cent. per annum.

Under the Welsh Intermediate Education Act, 1889.

£. 7,000 to the Governing Body of Intermediate and Technical Education in the County Borough of Newport, towards building a boys' school and a girls' school at Newport; repayable in 20 years, with interest at 4 per cent. per annum.

This is the first loan granted by this Board under the above-mentioned Act.

Under this Board's General Acts and Powers.

£. 100,000 to the South Staffordshire Mines Drainage Commissioners for works of underground drainage; repayable in 20 years, with interest at 4 per cent. per annum. In this Board's Report for 1889-90, page 8, mention was made of the arrangement with the Mines Drainage Commissioners, whereby the arrears of interest due to this Board to 31st March 1889, amounting to 5,278*l.* 15*s.*, were discharged in full, and the outstanding principal of the loan, 94,913*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.*, with interest at the reduced rate of 4 per cent. from 31st March 1889, was made repayable by half-yearly payments in about 28 years.

This arrangement has been faithfully carried out; and, in addition to the half-yearly payments referred to, the Drainage Commissioners have been enabled to repay 4,465*l.* 6*s.* 7*d.* in further reduction of the principal of the loan, which now amounts to 79,202*l.* 5*s.* 5*d.*

The Public Works Loans Act, 1894, having extended this Board's powers of lending for the purpose of underground drainage (see Paragraph XIV. (a)), the loan of 100,000*l.* was granted for the purpose of freeing from water the mines in the Tipton District of the Drainage Commissioners. The Drainage Commissioners were authorised by the Act 54 and 55 Vict. c. 185 (Local) to raise for this purpose a sum of 100,000*l.*, to take precedence of the then existing charges on the Mines Drainage Rate, amounting to 271,728*l.*, and applied to this Board for a loan; but the application was not not entertained on the ground of the insufficiency of the security of the Mines Drainage Rate. The Drainage Commissioners then, by the South Staffordshire Mines Drainage Act, 1894, obtained further powers, enabling them to give collateral security for the loan. This collateral security consisted, in addition to the rates referred to, of a first charge on the fee-simple and inheritance of the mines and minerals for the time being lying in and under the several collieries mentioned in the Act, which cover a surface area of 9,253 acres, in priority to all incumbrances, and on this increased security this Board assented to the grant of the loan.

IX. The moneys required by this Board for the purposes of their advances during the last financial year were provided by the National Debt Commissioners, in accordance with the National Debt and Local Loans Act, 1887.

X. The fees received by this Board from borrowers, pursuant to the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, irrespective of Stamp Duty, amounted during the last financial year to 9,314*l.* 2*s.* 11*d.*, as compared with 8,784*l.* 4*s.* received in 1893-94.

XI. The expenses of this Department over and above the fees received are now, in accordance with the National Debt and Local Loans Act, 1887, borne by the interest of the Local Loans Fund, as will be seen by reference to the Local Loans Fund Account for 1893-94 (Parliamentary Paper, No. 90, Session 1895).

The total expenses for that year, including other voted services for 1892–93, amounted to 13,477*l.* 3*s.* 6*d.*, of which 8,784*l.* 4*s.* was defrayed by the Fees received, and the balance (4,692*l.* 19*s.* 6*d.*) out of the interest of the Local Loans Fund.

XII. Particulars of the loans remitted and written off from 1817 (the commencement of the Commission) to 31st March 1888, were set out in detail in Appendix (D.) to this Board's Report for 1887-88.

As explained in this Board's Report for 1891–92 (paragraph XI.), the amount of such loans stood on the 31st March 1892 at 2,004,026*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.*, and that amount remains unaltered, no addition having since been made to the remitted loans.

XIII. The outstanding balance of principal of loans written off from the assets of the Local Loans Fund remains at 276,386*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.*, the figures given in this Board's last Report.

Under the National Debt and Local Loans Act, 1887, the borrowers are not relieved from their liabilities in respect of loans written off the Local Loans Fund; and during the last financial year the following sums have been received on account of interest in respect of loans so written off, and have been paid over to the National Debt Commissioners as income of the Local Loans Fund, viz.:—

Carlingford Lough	750
Rosehearty Harbour	100
Maldon Harbour	200

XIV. The following Acts affecting this Board were passed during the last Session of Parliament, viz.:—

(a.) The Public Works Loans Act, 1894 (57 Vict. c. 11), Section 3 of which enacts that the expression "Main Drainage" in the Schedule to the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, shall be construed as including works of underground drainage.

(b.) The Diseases of Animals Act, 1894 (57 & 58 Vict. c. 57), Section 42 (4) of which enacts that the Public Works Loan Commissioners may, on the recommendation of the Local Government Board, advance money to a Local Authority for the purposes of the Act.

(c.) The

(c.) The Merchant Shipping Act, 1894 (57 & 58 Vict. c. 60), Section 663 of which enacts that the Public Works Loan Commissioners may, for the purpose of the construction and repair of lighthouses or other extraordinary expenses connected with the service of lighthouses, buoys, and beacons, advance money upon mortgage of the Mercantile Marine Fund. This section is only a re-enactment of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.

(d.) The Fishery Board (Scotland) Extension of Powers Act, 1894 (57 & 58 Vict. c. 14), which provides that the Fishery Board may use and apply the Grant heretofore made by Parliament for the building, making, and repairing of piers or quays in Scotland, in providing collateral security for any loan made by the Public Works Loan Commissioners, with the approval of the Fishery Board, for the construction or improvement of harbours in Scotland, and may charge such grant with the repayment of any such loan or any part thereof with the interest thereon for such period and on such terms as may be agreed upon between the Fishery Board and the Public Works Loan Commissioners.

No application has been made to this Board for a loan under this Act.

XV. The loans in arrear, Appendix (D.), amount to 257,234*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.* for principal, and 173,806*l.* 17*s.* 11*d.* for interest, as compared with 250,584*l.* 11*s.* 9*d.* for principal, and 187,057*l.* 6*s.* 9*d.* for interest in 1893-94; and this Board's observations against each case will be found in the same Appendix. In the cases of Barvas and Uig School Boards, which appeared in the list of arrears in this Board's last Report, all arrears have been discharged.

XVI. The Board regret to have to record the death during the year of two of their colleagues, the Right Honourable Lord Swansea and the Right Honourable Lord Basing. Lord Swansea was appointed a Public Works Loan Commissioner in 1861, and Lord Basing in 1884.

The Board also regret that Mr. Benjamin Buck Greene, who was appointed a Public Works Loan Commissioner in 1880, decided, in consequence of his advanced years, to resign his appointment. Mr. Greene was a most constant attendant at the Board's meetings, and by his resignation the Commissioners feel they have lost a most valuable colleague. Mr. Greene was appointed a West India Islands Relief Commissioner in 1875. The powers of those Commissioners were transferred to the Public Works Loan Commissioners in 1881.

Pursuant to Section 4 of the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, the Board, with the concurrence of the Treasury, have appointed Mr. Francis William Buxton and Mr. Edward Henry Loyd as Public Works Loan Commissioners, to supply the two vacancies occasioned by the death of Lord Swansea and Lord Basing, and they have appointed as a Commissioner in place of Mr. Greene, his son Mr. Frederick Greene.

By order of the Board,

Public Works Loan Board,
31 May 1895.

R. Philpot, Secretary.

mentioned in Columns Nos. 13 and 15 of Appendix (A.), pages 15 and 17.

OBSERVATIONS.
Now discharged.
The Harbour Authority have paid 200*l.* on account of interest, as compared with 175*l.* in 1893–94. As the income of the Harbour is insufficient to pay a year's interest, the arrears are annually increasing.
The negotiations with the Treasury mentioned in the Board's last Report are still pending, and in the meantime the Harbour Trustees have paid nothing in respect of the arrears. No payment has been made during the last financial year, and the Trustees have applied to the Treasury severally as to the financial position of the harbour and the application of the revenue. The Trustees have during the last financial year been enabled to pay on account of interest 40*l.*, the same as in 1893–94.
£. 29,700 interest has been paid by Her Majesty's Office of Works during the last financial year, as against 20,000*l.* in 1893–94, thus reducing the arrears of interest from 54,700*l.* as in 1893–94 account to 29,000*l.*
Now discharged.
This Board have been in possession of these buildings since 10th November 1888, as mentioned in previous Reports. The net income for the year ended 31st December 1894, after discharging all outgoings and repairs, amounted to only 130*l.* 12*s.* 8*d.*, as compared with 425*l.* 19*s.* 8*d.* in the previous year. The gross income of the year was about 1,426*l.*, a little less than the previous year, but heavy expenditure on repairs has been found necessary, which has exhausted nearly the whole of the income. The official assignee of the debtor has contracted to sell the equity of redemption in the property, and on this sale being carried out the whole of the arrears will be discharged.
This case appears as an arrear for the first time. This Board hold a first mortgage, and the second mortgagees who are managing the property have produced the accounts from which it appears that the whole of the income of the property has been required for and expended on the repairs and alterations to the buildings. There is no reason at present to anticipate that the security will be insufficient to discharge the loan.
Now discharged.
Now discharged.
These loans are standing over for the present, pending the necessary apportionment of the debts, in consequence of the alterations made in the areas of the districts under the Local Government Act, 1894.
Now discharged.
This loan is standing over for the present, pending the necessary apportionment of the debts, in consequence of the alterations made in the areas of the district under the Local Government Act, 1894.
Now discharged.
The Board are in correspondence with the Scotch Education Department on the subject of these arrears.
This Board have no observations to add to those contained in their Report for 1887–88, no alteration having taken place in the meantime.

OBSERVATIONS.

All interest on the 46,015*l.* has been discharged to 31st December 1894.

All interest on the 2,834*l.* 1*s.* 11*d.* has been discharged to 31st December 1894. No payment has been made on account of principal, it having been found necessary to incur expenditure for new works which has been defrayed out of the year's income.

The Harbour Commissioners have paid 140*l.* 1*s.* 6*d.* on account of interest during the year. They state that the revenue has decreased by the stoppage of the copper mines, and it is now further threatened by the probable suspension of the only active remaining tin mine in the district.

The circumstances relating to this loan and its postponement, pursuant to Act 56 & 57 Vict. c. 40, are stated in paragraph No. XIV. of this Board's Report for 1893–94.

The amount received in 1894–95 was 221*l.* 11*s.* 11*d.*, as against 210*l.* -s. 9*d.* in 1893–94. The outstanding balance of the Loan is now 4,233*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.*, as compared with 4,314*l.* 15*s.* in 1893–94. The gross revenue for the year ended 31st January 1895, shows a slight increase as compared with the previous year.

This case appears for the first time in the list of arrears. The Harbour Commissioners state that the harbour revenue does not promise to exceed that of last year, and they have had the cost of rebuilding a store which was swept away in December last by the overflow on the North Pier by the damming of bridges in the Toliarne Valley, at a cost of about 200*l.*; they therefore have asked that the instalment of principal (125*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.*), due on 29th December last, may remain unpaid for the present.

Difficulties have arisen as to the completion of the harbour, and the Harbour Trustees are in correspondence with the Secretary for Scotland on the subject.

The Harbour Commissioners state that since the coast railway was opened the coal imports have fallen off considerably through the importers taking advantage of the railway in preference to the sea, and that the fish curing business has also fallen off of late years, and the herrings exported, to a considerable extent, by the railway. They also state that the repairs mentioned in this Board's last Report have been completed, but that further repairs are required.

This Board received nothing from the Harbour Commissioners in respect of this Loan during the last financial year, as compared with 199*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* in 1893–94. Since the advance of this Board's Loan of 10,000*l.*, mentioned in their Report for 1891–92, up to the present time, the harbour revenue shows no signs of improvement, and the accounts for the year ending August 1894 show a decrease of 164*l.* revenue, and increase of 87*l.* for management, maintenance, and repairs, as compared with the preceding year.

This case appears for the first time in the list of arrears, owing to a dispute between the Harbour Trustees and the contractor. The Secretary for Scotland has appointed a Committee to consider how the unspent part of the Government Grant can be best expended on the permanent improvement of the harbour, and to satisfy the just claims of the contractor, and the Board are awaiting to hear further from the Secretary for Scotland.

The revenue of the harbour has been steadily decreasing for the last six years, and the Board are in correspondence with the Harbour Commissioners, who are desirous of memorializing the Treasury for a reduction in the rate of interest on the Board's Loan.

The period for suspension of this Loan expired on the 1st January 1894, and the Trustees are still in communication with the Treasury with a view to further relief being afforded to them.

This Board received from the Harbour Trustees 100*l.* in 1894–95 (the same as in 1893–94). The audited accounts of the harbour are annually furnished by the Trustees. The amount paid to this Board from year to year is insufficient to keep down the interest, and the arrears are consequently annually increasing.

The Harbour Trustees state that they have been unable to complete the works in consequence of litigation with the contractor, who has become bankrupt. The Board are awaiting a Report from the engineer to the Trustees as to the works which have been completed and those which remain to be completed.

As explained in this Board's Report for 1888–89, the income is insufficient to keep down the annual interest. £. 750 was received in 1894–95, as compared with 900*l.* in 1893–94.

The negotiations relating to the proposed transfer of this undertaking are set out in paragraph No. XII. of this Board's Report for 1893–94.

Public Buildings

The Public Buildings in charge of the Board are made up as follows :—

Naval and Military Buildings,	221
Revenue Departments,	146
State and Official Residences,	17
Other Civil Departments,	1,007

Dundrum Central Criminal Lunatic Asylum.—This Asylum was erected many years ago upon a plan which it has since been found necessary to adapt to modern requirements. A scheme of improvement for that purpose has been undertaken after consultation with the Inspectors of Lunatic Asylums, and has for some time been in continuous progress with such modifications, both as to the details of the work and the order of its execution as were from time to time suggested by the department referred to. The expenditure is being spread over several years. Parts of the boundary wall have been rebuilt or raised in order to diminish the risk of escape by inmates. It has, however, been considered desirable to postpone for the present further action in this direction in order to proceed with works calculated to improve the sanitary condition of the establishment, and to facilitate administration and the enforcement of discipline.* In furtherance of the programme of improvement new sewage disposal works have been carried out, and one of the places of worship belonging to the Institution has been removed to a position external to the main building in order to allow of the space thus set free being utilized for other purposes. During the year 1894–5 the Board completed the re-arrangement of the quarters occupied by female inmates. This consisted in substituting cells for the previous open dormitory accommodation, building a sanitary annexe, and carrying out certain minor works.

Extensive new stores have also been built within the year. On their completion according to the designs adopted, after consultation with the Inspectors of Lunatic Asylums, several valuable improvements involving considerable extra cost were suggested by them to the Board, and the necessary expenditure having been sanctioned by your Lordships, they were fully carried out before the close of the year. Provision has been made for further progress in the present year, during which it is proposed that extensive improvements shall be made on the male side. The heating of the Asylum and other works, with the question of the boundary wall, will remain to be dealt with hereafter, subject to your Lordships' sanction, in such order as may be determined on.

New Parcel Post Depôt, Amiens-street.—The Dublin Parcel Post Depot has now been completed with the exception of the permanent electric lighting plant which is under contract. The site adjoins the junction of the Great Northern and Dublin Junctions Railway Companies at Amiens-street Terminus, and is in direct communication with all parts of the United Kingdom.

The building, which was designed by the Board's Senior Surveyor, will be completed for the original estimate of £16,500. It is built of red brick and cut stone, and consists on the street and basement levels of a van yard approached from Preston-street, 70 feet by 50 feet, to which adjoin extensive stores, sorters' rooms, sanitary accommodation, and an engine and boiler house approached from Amiens-street by a separate entrance and yard. On the ground floor are a public office, 45 feet by 28 feet, approached from Amiens-street, a local sorting office, 70 feet square, adjoining the van-yard platform, approached from Preston-street, and registered parcels and private offices. The first floor consists of offices for the directing staff, and the principal sorting office, which is 120 feet by 70 feet.

A staircase and two hydraulic lifts connect the several floors, and the principal sorting office is connected with the platforms of the Great Northern and Dublin Junctions Railway Companies, on each of which is a hydraulic lift, by a steel lattice girder bridge, through which trucks convey the parcels from the lifts in the Depot to those on the platforms. The boilers, which evaporate about 1,500 lbs. of steam per hour at a pressure of 100 lbs. on the square inch, supply two Tangye pumps working against a hydraulic pressure of 700 lbs. on the square inch into an accumulator which works the four lifts. The boilers are also intended to supply two steam dynamos. These supply a direct current of 100 volts to a central switch board in the principal sorting office, from which the whole of the electric lighting circuits can be economically controlled. The current is distributed on a Concentric System, which has been here used for the first time in Ireland. The building was completed in November, and the full advantage of the accommodation, fittings, and machinery utilised for the transaction of business at Christmas.

*Since the above was written arrangements have been made for proceeding with the raising of the boundary walls.

Electric Lighting.—The Board have two large installations with independent plant, one at the Science and Art Buildings in Kildare-street, complete for some years, and the other already referred to at the Parcel Post Depôt approaching completion. The former was erected under the advice of Mr. Preece, Engineer to the G.P.O. London. The Science and Art installation works satisfactorily from the point of view of efficiency and economy, and there is every reason to anticipate similar results from that in course of completion at the Parcels Depôt. The supervision of the plant and the design and specification of all the recent works have been carried out in the department.

Before deciding on the erection of an independent plant at the Parcel Post Depôt, the Board negociated for the supply with the Electric Lighting Committee of the Dublin Corporation. After the terms of supply had been discussed and an understanding arrived at on the principal items, the Corporation satisfied the Board that the supply would have to be postponed to a time considerably later than that originally contemplated, and as the delay would have been a source of expense and inconvenience it was determined to erect independent plant.

The Lighting of the Accountant's Branch of the General Post Office has also been the subject of communications with the Committee of the Corporation. The wiring of the building has been completed for some time past and everything is ready for the current. The Committee have a difficulty in supplying it at present. If necessary, independent plant can be introduced, as in the Parcel Post Depôt. The State Apartments at Dublin Castle were wired some few years since, and have been worked during the season by plant specially hired every year. It is hoped that the necessary supply will be soon obtainable from the Electric Lighting Committee.

Speaking generally it is found that independent installations are a source of economy except where the number of lamps is small or the hours of lighting short.

Grants in aid of Erection and Improvement of National Schools.—The vote for grants to aid in the erection and improvement of National Schools was £28,000. The entire of this sum with an excess of about £150 was expended. Reference was made in our last two Reports to the difficulties arising from uncertainty as to the time at which grants sanctioned by the Commissioners of National Education become payable actually to the managers of schools. The cause of this is the course sometimes adopted by managers of postponing works for an indefinite time after sanction of a grant has been intimated. This leads in one year to the non-expenditure of part of the sum voted by Parliament and in another to an expenditure in excess of that sum. We are happy to state that as the result of conference with the Department of National Education during the latter part of the year measures are under arrangement to remedy the inconveniences referred to, which pressed on managers as much as on the Departments concerned. It is proposed that conditions involving no hardship, but calculated to strengthen the hands of managers in carrying out buildings and improvements, shall henceforth be attached to the grants. Suggestions with reference to contracts and matters of detail will also be made to them, and no doubt acted on. With their co-operation we have every reason to hope that the service will be placed on a satisfactory footing.

PHŒNIX PARK.

In the Report of last year we referred to the extent to which the Park roads had been used for business as distinguished from pleasure traffic. We noticed particularly their use by market gardeners' carts, farmers' carts, and traders' vans. The question of the construction of a road by the Grand Jury of the County Dublin which would relieve the Park from what may be called agricultural traffic was brought before the last Presentment sessions by cesspayers resident in the locality interested, but was withdrawn from immediate consideration in consequence of some defects in procedure. It is understood that the subject will be renewed, and in the meantime the market gardeners frequenting the Dublin markets are furnished with temporary passes enabling them to drive through the Park.

With regard to vans, &c., delivering goods from city establishments the experience given by the restrictive measures adopted in the beginning of 1894, in order to place some check on the excessive and unnecessary use previously made of the Park roads for such purposes has enabled the Board to measure fully the real necessities of the case. A system of passes has now been adopted which is found to satisfy the requirements of traders and their customers without involving the excessive use of the roads for business traffic which formerly prevailed.

The public cricket ground, the preparation of which was commenced in 1893, is getting into good condition, and there is every reason to hope that it will be largely used and give satisfaction.

In connection with this the Board desire to refer to the absence of legal power on their part (such as exists in England under the Parks Regulations Acts) to ensure the protection of such improvements as the public cricket ground, and to preserve them as also other portions of the Park from injury, whether resulting from carelessness or from malice. The want has long been recognised but it will be felt more acutely according as spaces are specially prepared by the Board for the use of the public for various pastimes, e.g., for a children's gymnasium which they would otherwise gladly have carried out. They venture to suggest that there is need of a statutory power to make bye-laws for the purpose indicated subject to such restrictions and conditions as to confirmation as may be thought desirable. Power already exists for making and enforcing bye-laws deemed necessary by the police for the regulation of traffic. While making the above suggestion the Board desire to bear testimony to the spirit in which the public generally frequenting the parks and gardens under their management have co-operated to keep those places in good order.

KINGSTOWN HARBOUR.

During the year a contract was entered into for the construction of an entirely new roofing for the Mail Packet Pier, covering a considerably larger space than the old roof. Good progress has been made with the work, which it is hoped will be completed shortly. The extended protection which it will afford to passengers and mails was urgently needed.

The pump dredger contracted for in the previous financial year was delivered in September last, since which time it has done good service, having raised and removed at very moderate cost some 57,000 tons of spoil from the harbour.

A contract was also placed for a smaller dredger, with grab, which was delivered at Kingstown in March. By the aid of this machine it is hoped to reduce considerably the cost of removing material for which the pump dredger is not adapted.

BOYNE NAVIGATION.

The Boyne Navigation was one of the systems of Inland Navigation constructed with the aid of grants from the Irish Parliament. On the failure of the undertakers to complete the system from Drogheda to Trim, the lower section, from Drogheda to Carrickdexter Lock, passed into the control of the State ; and the upper section, from that Lock to Navan, into the hands of the River Boyne Company. This division of control and the competition of railways was not favourable to the maintenance, still less the development of the traffic. While the lower section was properly maintained by this Board, out of funds annually provided by Parliament, the upper, owing to the insufficiency of the revenue to cover expenditure, gradually fell into disrepair. As the whole traffic was thus threatened with extinction the Board took steps to interest the merchants of Navan and Drogheda in the maintenance of the Navigation. A new Company, to take over both sections, has been formed, to which the Drogheda S.S. Company contributes £1,200, and the Treasury a free grant of £2,500. A Bill to confirm this arrangement was introduced in the last Session, and will be proceeded with in the new Parliament, and we have every hope that the Navigation to Navan will be maintained and become of increasing benefit to the locality.

II.—LIGHT RAILWAYS AND TRAMWAYS.

Tramways and Light Railways under the Acts of 1860 to 1890.

Light Railways and Tramways.

Our Report of last year contained a full statement of the operation of these Acts and of the history of railway progress in Ireland so far as it is affected by State or local aid. The work for which assistance was provided under the Tramways Act of 1883 and the Light Railways Act of 1889 is nearly completed. Before mentioning the portions of it carried out during the year 1894-5, we desire to state succinctly the main object of each of the Acts passed on this complex subject from 1860, so far as they affect this Board.

1. The Tramways Act of 1860 (23 & 24 Vic., c. 152).—This Act dealt mainly with procedure. It made no provision to enable either the local authorities or the Treasury to aid financially the construction of railways. It imposed on us the duty of inquiring into "the merits of the undertaking."

II. The Tramways Act of 1861 (24 & 25 Vic., c. 102).—This Act was also confined to matter of procedure, and had no financial provisions bearing on the local authority or the Treasury.

It restricted (ss. 6 & 7) the inquiry by the Board into the merits of the undertakings to engineering questions.

III. The Relief of Distress Amendment Act, 1880 (43 & 44 Vic., c. 14), empowered the Treasury to lend on special terms, on the security of a baronial guarantee, for the construction of lines specified in a schedule to the Act.

IV. The Tramways and Public Companies (Ireland) Act, 1883, enabled Grand Juries to charge baronies or parts of baronies in perpetuity, or for a period, with interest not exceeding 5 per cent., on the capital required for the construction of Tramways or Light Railways (Sec. 1). The effect of the presentment affecting this charge (when confirmed by Order of the Lord Lieutenant in Council) was twofold—(1) it bound the districts charged to make good the ascertained half yearly deficiency in the net receipts to the amount of such interest; (2) it also rendered the districts chargeable, under certain circumstances specified in the Act, with the payment from time to time of such sums as might be required for completing, working, or maintaining the undertaking.

It further enabled the Treasury to repay the district half the amount duly paid by it under the guarantee given by Sec. 9, provided—(1) that the line was maintained in order and used for traffic; (2) that the Treasury payment should not exceed 2 per cent. on the capital guaranteed.

The liability of the Treasury was limited to an annuity of £40,000 per annum.

V. The Light Railways Act, 1889, enabled the State to aid the construction of Light Railways by—(a) a capital sum, which might be a grant or loan, or partly one and partly the other; (b) an annual payment; (c) capital sum and annual payment combined.

It rendered this aid available for such railways as the Lord Lieutenant in Council might from time to time declare to be desirable between certain places for the development of fisheries and other industries, and to require (owing to the circumstances of the district) special assistance from the State for their construction.

The State assistance was to be derived—(a) from the unappropriated balance of the annuity of £40,000 given by the Tramways and Public Companies Act, 1883; (b) from a capital sum of £600,000 to be provided by Parliament; (c) from an additional annuity of £2,000. The adjustment of the two forms of aid, annual payment and capital sum, so as not to exceed the limits of the Treasury assistance already stated, was directed to be made on the basis of 3 per cent.

The Act was to apply only—(a) where the promoters of the Light Railways are an Irish Railway Company having a railway open for traffic; or (b) where the promoters have made an agreement approved by the Treasury for the maintenance, management, and working of the Light Railway by such Railway Company; or (c) where a baronial guarantee was given for the payment of dividends upon a portion of the capital pursuant to the provisions of the Act of 1883.

VI. The Railways (Ireland) Act, 1890, was passed for the purpose of enabling special sessions to be held to consider certain Railway schemes mentioned in the First Schedule to the Act.

Section 5 of this Act authorized the construction of a railway other than a light railway under any agreement made by the Treasury with a Railway Company under Sec. 4 of the Act of 1889.

VII. The Transfer of Railways (Ireland) Act, 1890, gave powers for the transfer to and vesting in a Railway Company of any undertaking that had obtained a presentment under the Tramways (Ireland) Acts.

It provided that baronial guarantees were to remain in force, and the Railway Company to which the transfer might be made was authorized to issue baronial guaranteed shares, and themselves to guarantee punctual payment of dividends; or in lieu of such shares, to create and issue debenture stock equal in amount to the guaranteed stock, the Company being regarded as the holder of the guaranteed stock unissued and entitled to receive the dividends thereon.

Section 17 of the same Act gave power to the promoters of any light railway with whom the Treasury had made an agreement to enter upon any land which they were authorized to take on depositing in the Bank of Ireland such sum as may be certified to be proper by a valuer appointed by the Board of Public Works.

VIII. The Public Accounts and Charges Act, 1891, enabled the permanent annuities created under the Act of 1889 to be capitalised, and the equivalent sum borrowed from the National Debt Commissioners to be repaid by temporary annuities.

IX. The Light Railways (Ireland) Act, 1893, sanctioned an increase of the annuities authorized by the previous Acts by further annuities to the amount of £5,000.

As shown in the annexed table, of the lines to which State assistance was given under the Acts of 1889 and 1893, only the Collooney and Claremorris line remains uncompleted. The difficulties as regards the junctions at the terminal stations, which have been the cause of so much delay, have now been removed, and we anticipate the opening of the line for traffic at an early date.

This division of our duties comprises a variety of services placed under our control or management in pursuance of several Acts of Parliament. Though numerous, some of them are of only casual occurrence, and therefore do not form the subject of any special remarks, with the exception of the case of the Suck Drainage.

River Suck Drainage.

A scheme prepared by Mr. Lynam, C.E., for the drainage of the River Suck was promoted under the Drainage and Improvement of Lands Act (Ireland), 1863, in the year 1875. The estimate of total cost was £120,237, equal to an annuity of £6,118 for 35 years, of lands improved 21,040 acres, of improved value of £7,352. The scheme however failed to obtain the necessary proportion of assents, and in March, 1877, a reduced scheme was promoted by, among others, the O'Conor Don, Messrs. Wills Sandford, E. W. Fowler, agent for Lord Clancarty, G. A. Holmes, agent for C. Neville Bagot, St. George Caulfield, &c. The scheme was examined by Mr. Forsyth as Inspector, and the estimate of lands improved was returned as 19,005 acres, of improved value £5,037, of cost £103,890.

The requisite proportion of assents having been received, the Drainage District was constituted by a Provisional Order dated 27th February, 1878, which was confirmed by the Local Act 41 V., c. 38, Drainage and Improvement of Lands Supplemental Act, (Ireland), 1878.

The period for the completion of the work was limited to the 1st January, 1884; but as time went on it became evident that they could not be finished within the period, although the Board of Works had given an extension of time under their powers. Accordingly, in 1886, an Act was obtained extending the time for the completion of the works, and also containing a novel provision, namely, that in addition to the representatives of the proprietors on the Drainage Board there should also be representatives of the occupiers. This was done by adding seven elected members to the twenty-one members originally on the Board. In course of time it again became evident that even within the extended time provided by the Act of 1886 the works could not be completed; and in 1889 another Act was obtained giving further time for the completion of the works, that is to say, until the 1st January, 1889, with power to the Board of Works to give a further extension, not exceeding three years. There were also several other special provisions—one was that in addition to the sums which under the general Drainage Acts might be charged on the counties in respect of bridges, &c., a further sum of £13,000 should be charged on the County Cess of a limited area to be defined by the Lord Lieutenant by Order in Council. Secondly, Parliament authorized the Treasury to make a free grant of £50,000 towards the cost of the works, and the borrowing powers of the Drainage Board were limited to a sum of £115,000 in addition to the £13,000 and £50,000. Thirdly, the representation of the occupiers was extended to one-half the Drainage Board; that is to say, out of 28 members, 14 were to represent occupiers and 14 landowners. Changes were also made by the Act as to the apportionment of the expense of the works by the Final Award, it being provided that, after deducting the two sums of £13,000 and £50,000 above mentioned, the total cost of the works should be apportioned in two annuities to be called the "occupiers annuity" and the "proprietors annuity," to be paid direct to the Board of Works for a term of 40 years. Under the ordinary Arterial Drainage Acts the proprietors would alone have been responsible to the Board of Works for the repayment of the cost of the work, though they would have been entitled to receive from the tenants such increased rents, not exceeding the estimated value of the improvement effected on each holding, as the Board of Works on their application and after due inquiry might fix. The effect of the Act of 1889, in the case of the River Suck, is to make the occupiers directly responsible to the Board of Works for the payment of an annuity in respect of each holding not exceeding the estimated value of the improvement effected by the Drainage Works. The whole trouble and risk of collection is thus transferred from the proprietors to the Board, and from the number of holdings affected, and the varying amount of the annuities to be collected, it will be seen that a very considerable addition will be made to the work of our Accounts Department. Further legislation became necessary in 1890; and at last, in 1894, the works reached a stage at which it was possible for the Board of Works to frame the draft of the Final Award as required by the Act of 1889. The first point to be settled in connection with the Award was the amount of the occupiers annuity. The Act of 1889 provides that the annuity declared to be chargeable upon the interest of the occupier in any portion of land shall be, but shall not exceed, the estimated increased value thereof resulting from the works. Every possible care was taken to arrive at as true an estimate as possible of the area of land benefited, and the amount of the benefit effected in each case by the Drainage Works. Early in February, 1895, the Draft Award was published, in which the occupiers annuity, that is to say, the actual estimated increase in value, was assessed at £3,499 17*s.*, representing a capital sum of £77,774 9*s.*, and the proprietors annuity at £2,605 9*s.* 2*d.*, equivalent to a capital sum of £57,899 0*s.* 10*d.* These two sums amount to £135,673 9*s.* 10*d.*, and include interest to 31st October, 1894. In addition there was spent £13,000, charged on the county cess under the Act of 1889, £50,000 free grant, and £1,815 4*s.* 9*d.*, on county bridges.

The Award affected some 1,900 occupiers and 82 proprietors. In accordance with the Act of 1889 an inquiry into objections to the Award was held by a Member of the Board, commencing at Ballinasloe on March 14th, and terminating at Castlerea on April 8th. About 1,100 cases were heard, and a considerable proportion of the district was subsequently reinspected.

The voluminous evidence and information thus collected has since been under careful consideration, and it is hoped that the Final Award will be completed early in August. By lapse of time a further charge for interest of £1,700 has accrued, which will have to be added to the charge on the proprietors with any sum that may, as the result of the inquiry, be deducted from the charge on the occupiers.

It will thus be seen that the improductive expenditure on this drainage scheme has been very large. This result is attributable in different degrees to the fall in land values since the scheme was promoted; to mistakes in the execution of the works, and to the long time occupied by the Drainage Board in completing them, and it adds another instance to those on which are based the remarks on page 14 of this Report as to the necessity for extreme caution in promoting and care in carrying out any Arterial Drainage Scheme.

Shannon Navigation.—Important legistation which was carried during the year, the subject of this service, is noticed at p. 21.

National Monuments and Ecclesiastical Ruins.

Advantage has been conferred on this branch of the Board's service by an arrangement lately made, under which the Royal Irish Academy and the Royal Society of Antiquarians have deputed experienced members of those bodies to confer with the Board on the works of preservation required in different parts of the country. The former is represented by Mr. Thomas Drew, R.H.A., and by Dr. Edward Percival Wright; the latter by Lord Walter Fitzgerald and the Rev. Denis Murphy, S.J. Through this arrangement the Board obtain the assistance not only of the gentlemen just referred to, but also through them of members of the learned societies skilled in the history and traditions of each district. Local influence and sympathy are also awakened, which it is hoped will have the effect of saving Monuments from much of the injury resulting from carelessness or mischief. The co-operation enjoyed by the Board affords a substantial guarantee that the work of preservation which is their sole statutory duty shall, without expanding into restoration, be carried out in harmony with the design and character of each Monument.

ADVANCES, REPAYMENTS, AND ARREARS.

Advances, repayments, and arrears.

The earliest mention of Public Works Loans to be found in the Abstract submitted by the Board is in connection with the Statute 57 Geo. III., c. 34, passed in 1817. The total of all loan advances from that date to 31st March, 1895 (with certain loans made under special Acts before 1817), is £40,400,053.

The classified abstract in Appendix (C), pages 40 and 43, shows how this amount has been disposed of, by repayments, remissions, balances outstanding, &c.

Total Repayments,	23,809,545
Total Remissions,	7,993,225
Written off from Local Loans Fund,	197,416
Outstanding Balances,	8,399,867
	£40,400,053

This outstanding balance is represented in the books of the Office by 26,819 open accounts. The loans are generally in course of repayment by half-yearly instalments.

The advances to borrowers in the year 1894-95 out of moneys advanced by the National Debt Commissioners were £477,718, as against £417,251 in 1893–94, and £460,648 in 1892–93.

The amounts received in the year were £516,491, in repayment of principal, and £266,883 in respect of interest, making together £783,374. Of the latter amount, £728,138 was paid to the National Debt Commissioners, and £55,236 to the Irish Land Commission in discharge of principal and interest of loans made out of the Irish Church Fund.

Issues on the Loan Services generally, during the year, do not call for special remarks. There has, however, been a revival of activity under the Labourers Acts which enable Boards of Guardians to provide dwellings for labourers. This is shown by a comparison of the amount of loans sanctioned during each of the last two years :—

Lunatic Asylum Loans.

No. 17 in Abstract, p. 40.

Last year's Report recorded the amended terms given by your Lordships with reference to these loans, under the Public Works Loans Act (No. 3), 1893. Under a previous Act (Public Works Loans Act, 1877) Lunatic Asylum loans bore interest at 3½ per cent., and were repaid by annuity in fourteen years. The Act of 1893 enabled the period to be extended to fifty years, and the interest to be reduced to 3½ or such other rate as, in the judgment of the Treasury, might be necessary in order to enable the loan to be made without loss to the Exchequer, provided that in determining the period regard should be had to the probable duration and continuing utility of the work in aid of which the loan was required.

The terms fixed by your Lordships under these powers were :—(a) for loans for permanent works and buildings, or for the acquisition of any land, or for any easement connected therewith, &c.—

	Rate of Interest.
If repaid within thirty-five years, . .	3½ per cent.
If repaid within fifty years, ...	3¾ „

(b) For loans for furniture, fittings, &c., maximum period of repayment, twenty years ; rate of interest, 3½ per cent.

Before the close of the year under report it was under your Lordships' consideration to make the rate of 3½ per cent. applicable henceforth to all the loans dealt with by the arrangements made under the Act of 1893, and it is understood that this course is about to be adopted.

It is to be remembered that the rate of interest is liable to be revised, not retrospectively, but with regard to future loans, if at any time the contingency of loss to the Exchequer contemplated by the Act of 1893 becomes, in the judgment of your Lordships, probable.

Having referred to this subject for the purpose of showing the contemplated modification of the arrangements made as to these loans in 1893–4 with regard to interest, we desire to recall the other important feature in those arrangements by which repayment by annuity has been abandoned, and repayment by equal instalments of principal, with interest on the balance outstanding, substituted for it.

Arterial Drainage.

No. 42 in Abstract, p. 42.

The year was an important one in respect of this service, inasmuch as it witnessed, in the case of the Carrigrohane (Co. Cork) Scheme, the first inquiry into a proposal for the substitution of tenants for landlords under the Drainage and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act of 1892 (55 & 56 V., c. 65).

The principle and effect of this measure deserve notice, and it is of moment that they should be clearly understood by the occupiers of land. Before the Act of 1892, the power to give or refuse assent to the constitution of an arterial drainage district under the Drainage and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1863, lay exclusively with the owner or landlord, and with tenants under lease for lives renewable for ever, or under lease having forty years to run, all of whom were termed "Proprietors." The ordinary tenant had no such power. The liability to the Board for advances made for carrying out drainage schemes was similarly regulated. It lay exclusively on the "Proprietors." All that the ordinary tenant could be made liable for was an increase to his rent measured by the improvement found after the execution of the works to have been effected in his holding. The value of this improvement was in each case made the subject of special and close inquiry by the Board, and it sometimes happened that it was less, occasionally considerably less, than the proportion of the cost chargeable to the "Proprietor" in respect of the holding. The tenant was thus safeguarded against excessive charges, and the "Proprietor" alone felt the burden of expenditure exceeding the value of the improvement effected. By the operation of the Act of 1892 these provisions of the Act of 1863 become inoperative in the case of substituted tenants. A tenant who obtains an order substituting him for his landlord as Proprietor obtains the right to record his "assent" to the proposed drainage, and that assent counts for the purpose of forming the majority required for the constitution of the district. In acquiring this right, he entails on himself and his holding a corresponding liability in respect of the cost of the works. This liability is not limited to the value of the improvement effected in his farm, but covers the entire portion of the whole cost of the scheme which, under the Act of 1863, would have been chargeable against his landlord in respect of the holding if substitution had not taken place.

This may be illustrated by supposing a case where the entire cost of the scheme was originally estimated at £10,000 and the improvement to a particular holding at £6 10*s.* a year (which under an advance repayable in 22 years would have repaid £100 of the £10,000), but where the entire cost ultimately rose to £12,000. Assuming the entire estimated benefit to the holding to have been realised, the tenant would have had his rent increased before the Act of 1892 by £6 10*s.* a year, while the landlord would have been liable for a rentcharge sufficient to repay £120, amounting (in the case of advances repayable in 22 years) to £7 16*s.*, and would thus have been a loser so far as the holding in question was concerned to the extent of £1 6*s.* a year. If in future cases the tenant under such circumstances avails himself of the Act of 1892, and in consequence of the refusal of the landlord to assent to the scheme, causes himself to be substituted as Proprietor, he steps into the landlord's responsibilities, and becomes liable not to an increased rent of £6 10*s.* representing the improvement effected, but to a yearly rent-charge of £7 16*s.*

The difference between the charge on the substituted tenant and the increase of rent which he would have paid as tenant will be still greater if the improvement effected does not prove to be of the value estimated, which is no uncommon occurrence.

It is to be remembered that the responsibility for obtaining plans and estimates from qualified engineers, for making the contracts in connection with the schemes, and for supervision of the works during execution, rests under Statute entirely with the Local Drainage Boards. The duties of this Board are limited to the following points. They appoint an Inspector to report on the proposal when originally submitted; they consider objections made to it, record the assents and dissents of Proprietors, and if the facts disclose no obstacle to the scheme they, acting on the recommendation of the Inspector, "constitute the district." Their duty, after the Provisional Order has been confirmed, is to advance an instalment of the loan before any work is done, and subsequently when called on by the Drainage Board, at such intervals as the latter find convenient, to cause the works to be visited by their Engineer with a view to determining whether the expenditure made requires the advance of a further instalment of the loan. These visits carry no responsibility for proper execution. They were not intended to constitute a supervision of the work. Such supervision, in order to be of value, must be constant. The Board's Engineer when called to visit the works after an interval of three or six months may find obvious defects or deviations, and refuse to certify for an advance until they are remedied, but the manner in which the work is carried out in detail has been outside his supervision and control. The contractor is liable to the Drainage Board exclusively, and the Engineer of the Board of Works occasionally finds that expense has been increased by financial weakness on the part of the contractor, unexpected difficulties arising from floods, &c., extras, neglect or delay. The result is that the original estimate is exceeded, a further loan is required, and the charge on the district thus increased.

These results are obviously more serious to occupiers of small holdings than to the class which has hitherto generally furnished "Proprietors." The former also run greater risks of the losses referred to. The Proprietors, in the original sense of the word, were a comparatively small body, mainly composed of men of leisure and experience of business on a large scale, from whom the Drainage Boards were chosen. The district where substitution takes place on any large scale will not have these advantages to the same extent. It is hoped, however, that by care in the making of contracts, by taking security for their execution, and by the avoidance of all laxity in enforcing them, the danger may be minimised. From want of attention to these matters loss has been caused to districts in the past, and they will require to be carefully looked after if benefit proportionate to the expenditure is to be derived from new arterial drainage schemes. If Drainage Boards pay due attention to these matters, and support the efforts of the engineers employed by them to secure good work, there is every reason to hope that well considered works of the class under consideration may continue to be beneficially undertaken.

Loans for Improvement of Land.

Nos. 26 and 28 in Abstract, p. 42.

These loans may be divided into two classes :—

1. Loans under the Land Improvement Act, 10 Vic., c. 32, made to owners in fee or of a lesser estate, and to tenants holding under a lease for lives, of which at least two are surviving, or for unexpired terms of not less than 25 years, called "Land Improvement Loans."

2. Loans under Section 31 of the Land Law Act of 1881, made to all tenants save those who hold under a lease for lives or for an unexpired term of 25 years, called "Land Law Loans."

I. Land Improvement Loans.

The object of these loans was restricted by the original Act, 10 Vic., c. 32, to drainage, reclamation, subsoiling, fencing, farm-roads, and other field works. Subsequent statutes extended them to the following purposes :—

Works.	Statute.
Building and enlarging Farm-offices,	29 & 30 Vic., c. 40, sec. 5.
Building and enlarging Farm dwelling-houses,	29 & 30 Vic., c. 40, sec. 5.
Building Dwelling-houses for Labourers,	23 & 24 Vic., c. 19, sec. 1.
Planting for Shelter,	29 & 30 Vic., c. 40, sec. 5.
Erection of Scutch Mills,	15 & 16 Vic., c. 34.

The smallest loan permitted was originally £100. The minimum limit has been reduced by statute to £50 for permanent buildings.

Formerly, when a Loan was made to a tenant under the Land Improvement Act, the Board's charge on his land was destroyed by the cesser or determination of the tenancy. This is no longer the case. By the Public Works Loans Act of 1889 (52 & 53 Vic., c. 71, sections 5 & 6), the loan continues after cesser or determination of the lessee's interest to be a charge on the landlord's estate, but only to the extent of the value of the improvement at the time when the lessee's interest came to an end. In case of dispute this value is assessed by the Commissioner of Valuation.

II. Loans to Tenants under the Land Law Act of 1881, or "Land Law Loans."

These loans are authorised for improvements which experience has shown to be permanently useful for agricultural tenancies of various sizes. At first the minimum was fixed at £100, but this was found to impede advances for small holdings and minor improvements, and successive reductions have brought the minimum to £35, a figure which has been practically found low enough to meet small requirements. In the earlier stages of this service the maximum loan under the Land Law Act was five times the valuation or judicial rent. Defaults in repayment of the advances occurred to an extent which, while not sufficient to throw a doubt on the honesty or general solvency of the borrowing class, was enough to show that a risk existed, against which it was necessary in the public interest to take precautions. Much of the default, and consequently much of the risk, occurred in cases where eviction for non-payment of rent took place, or was probable, the determination of the tenancy operating as an extinguishment of the Board's charge. Under these circumstances it was proposed to extend to Land Law Loans the principle applied by the Public Works Loans Act of 1889 to loans to tenants under the Land Improvement Act, thus making the holding liable after the determination of the tenancy, but only to the extent of the value of the improvement at such determination to be assessed by the Commissioner of Valuation as an independent authority. The assessments of the Valuation Office in cases under the Act of 1889 had been accepted as satisfactory by owners, and it was thought that a system which had been found to work equitably in the ambit in which it had been tested could have been extended without fear of evil consequences, and with the result of securing the State against undue risk of loss, and of limiting the liability placed on the owner's interest carefully limited to the value to him and his representatives of the improvement effected. The proposal not having been adopted, it became necessary to adopt measures in order to diminish the risk against which it had been directed, and in consequence the maximum of loans to tenants under the Land Law Act was reduced from five to three times the valuation or judicial rent. The reduction does not apply in cases where the risk is covered by security collateral to the Board's charge on the tenant's holding, nor where the rent is so small relatively to the value as to remove practically the risk of eviction.

There exists another difference between "Land Improvement" and "Land Law" Loans to which attention may be directed. Under the latter the borrower is placed by a covenant in the mortgage deed under a direct obligation to the Board to maintain the works carried out by the loan. The benefit of this obligation to the borrower as well as to the State is obvious, and the steps taken to enforce it by maintenance inspections are referred to at page 18 of this Report. There is a difficulty in creating it in the Land Improvement Loans, because the instrument of security under that system is not, as in the case of Land Law Loans, a deed with which a covenant to maintain can be incorporated, but a charging order into which such a provision cannot be introduced. The point is one of increasing importance owing to the growing number of loans to purchasers under the Land Commission, which must generally be made under the Land Improvement Act. It is in the interest not only of the borrower and the Board of Works, but also perhaps in a wider sense of the Land Commission, that there should be a well defined and enforceable obligation to maintain in such cases.

The spirit in which this service has been dealt with by applicants and borrowers has been steadily improving. When Land Law Loans were first introduced, there is no doubt that in some instances they were sometimes sought with the intention of using the money for the purchase of stock or the discharge of liabilities rather than for the improvement of the holding. This tendency, never general, was checked at an early stage. As time went on it disappeared through careful supervision and the growing desire of borrowers to use the loans for the real and permanent improvement of the land. This tone prevails among tenant borrowers at the present day and helps to guard against serious abuse of the facilities afforded by the system. Applicants show a tendency to co-operate with the Board in limiting the loan to what is really necessary to meet cash expenditure on works. At first, instalments of loans were issued in anticipation of work. For some years past the order has been changed, and the loan is issued in parts on the gradual execution of the works. This system is carried out in such a manner as to avoid inconvenience or delay to the borrowers, and while it serves the interests of the Board by rendering misappropriation difficult, it serves equally those of the agriculturist by making him active in securing the prompt and satisfactory execution of work on which the advance depends. The expenditure out of tenants' loans on buildings is largely in excess of that on drainage, reclamation, &c. This may be attributed largely to the very defective accommodation to be found in most of the smaller holdings for residence as well as for cattle and the storage of produce. In many, perhaps most instances, the farmer gives priority to the claims of cattle and produce and postpones to them the necessity, often only too evident, of a suitable dwelling house. Applications for loans for drainage are each year more limited to cases where substantial pecuniary advantage is certain to be gained. The tendency to seek aid for works of doubtful benefit is constantly decreasing.

Although Tenant Purchasers generally borrow under the Land Improvement Act, it may be permitted to refer to them in speaking of the class which furnishes borrowers under the Land Law Act. The reports of our Inspectors bear testimony to the desire shown by them to improve their newly purchased holdings. Their anxiety to secure improvements which are productive of profit rather than mere convenience or comfort, their efforts to secure the greatest advantage with the smallest amount of indebtedness to the Board, and their readiness to comply with regulations and requirements made to secure good work, deserve to be noted.

Loans for iron-roofed hay barns are becoming very general in most parts of the country. When introduced it was believed that they would not only prove a convenience but also add substantially to the value of the hay crop. This anticipation has been fully realised, and the growing demand for these structures is the consequence. It has been found necessary to be strict in framing and enforcing requirements for their careful construction. Borrowers and contractors are sometimes surprised at the care with which the materials supplied and the work done under these loans are watched, but it is certain that only such vigilance could secure iron hay barns able to resist the wear and tear of twenty-two years (the period of currency of the loan), or such violent storms as prevailed in the beginning of this year.

Disappointment is occasionally felt by applicants under the Land Improvement and Land Law Acts at some of the conditions and restrictions attached to the Board's loans. Many of these conditions and restrictions are imposed by statute, all are it is believed necessary for one or both of the two objects which it is the duty of the Board to serve, the safety of the State in making the loan and the permanent and real improvement of the lands. We venture to instance one case of common occurrence. A farmer has two holdings A and B, of say thirty acres each at distinct judicial rents, and at such a distance from each other as to be virtually manageable as one holding. He seeks a loan to build out-offices on A large enough to serve the requirements of both farms at a cost necessitating a loan which would possibly exceed the amount for which a charge on A would be sufficient security. To comply with this application would be to provide A with a building considerably in excess of its wants, and, to the extent of the excess, no real improvement to it, but rather a burden, inasmuch as it imposes on the farm a larger indebtedness and rentcharge and a heavier maintenance expenditure than necessary. It may be said that these burdens could be lightened by charging B as well as A with the loan. But B may be sold by the applicant, or the two farms may pass in many ways into different hands, and then would follow the very undesirable result of leaving B charged with a debt contracted for an improvement of no possible use to it, situated on another farm. The evil is felt particularly when the tenant of A, and still more when the tenant of B, seeks to purchase under the Land Commission. The former is naturally met with the difficulty that he is burdened with a rentcharge for repayment of an expenditure for which his holding has not got adequate value, and the latter that his holding is liable for a debt for works which are productive of no value whatever to it under existing circumstances. It will be seen that the Board are bound to give effect to these considerations, but in doing so they weigh the circumstances of each case and consult the convenience of parties so far as consistent with prudence and legality.

The "Maintenance Inspections" which have been proceeding for the last two years have proved of service, and it is proposed to continue them. The condition which they disclose may be regarded on the whole as not unsatisfactory. In some instances improvements effected under the older loans had been seriously neglected, but, with these exceptions, works have, as a rule, been fairly maintained. Repairs of various kinds are no doubt frequently found necessary. The Board's requirements are in almost all cases speedily complied with, and the slight expense or trouble incurred is amply repaid by the preservation of the improvement from further decay. We desire to bear testimony to the spirit in which these inspections have been met. Borrowers and the present occupiers of holdings on which loans have been made have co-operated cheerfully with the Inspectors, and appear pleased at receiving guidance for repair and preservation. It has also been found that in many districts their neighbours, on seeing repairs effected on the holdings visited, set to work without formal inspection to put the improvements on their own farms into good order.

We have found it necessary during the year, as occasionally in former periods, to decline applications for loans from local authorities and individuals where the payments on previous loans made to applicants were in arrear. From the circumstance that in some instances re-application after refusal has been made while arrears were still due, it is feared that the position of the Board on this point is not universally understood. We endeavour in such cases to make it clear that the statutory powers under which loans are made do not abrogate the responsibility which lies on the Board quite as much as on other institutions entrusted with money to be lent, and that the existence of arrears, or serious irregularity in the repayment of previous advances, renders it impossible for the Board to recommend applications for new loans for your Lordships' sanction.

With regard to the whole Loans Service, the following table shows the payments, and the arrears of principal and interest for the last four years ;—

The total amount of arrears in the Accountant's books has increased by £10,972 from £561,887 (1894) to £572,859 on 31st March, 1895. To arrive at the true increase, the arrears included in the amount written off from the Local Loans Fund by the Public Works Loans Act of 1894 must be added. That amount was £79, made up of principal and interest arrears. The total arrears therefore on the 31st March, 1895, would, but for the operation of the Public Works Loans Act, 1894, have stood at £572,938. Eliminating, however, the increase on certain railway loans (£14,596), which cannot be arrested, the work of recovering arrears during the year may fairly be regarded as satisfactory.

Arrears on "Public Works Loans generally" show an increase of £6,779, which is accounted for by the non-payment of the annual principal instalment on the Newry Navigation Loan (the result of agreement by which the money goes to discharge a salvage loan of £15,000 made in 1890), and by increased arrears on some of the Harbour Loans, which, in consequence of former reports, it is perhaps unnecessary to refer to in detail. The only new features contributing to the increase are suspensions of the principal repayments on the loans of two harbours, which have been permitted by your Lordships under special circumstances.

Public Health Act arrears have been reduced from £2,029 to £1,496. This is so far satisfactory, but we look forward to a time when, except in case of overwhelming local distress, local authorities will universally recognise the necessity of raising sufficient rates for the discharge of their liabilities to the State, and applying the moneys collected to that purpose.

The arrears on Seed Supply Loans under the Act of 1880 stood at £12,057 at the commencement of the year, and have not been decreased. Those under the Act of 1890 have decreased from £12,627 to £2,517.

We are glad to report a continued progress in the recovery of Land Improvement Charges, the decrease in arrears effected in the year being £2,120.

On the other hand, arrears on Loans to Tenants under Section 31 of the Land Law Act show an increase of £2,359 14*s.* 5*d.* We have already referred to the risks in connection with this service, and, while we have no desire to exaggerate them, it must be admitted that they deserve serious attention. It is true that a large part of the existing arrears have arisen in a few localities, and that the evil in its worst form cannot be said to be general ; that delay in payment does not necessarily mean ultimate loss.

and that the increase during the past year is to some extent mere unpunctuality due to a bad season. But, making every allowance, two inferences appear inevitable:—First that it is our duty to make every reasonable effort to prevent the growth of fresh cases of arrear, and, where arrears exist, to effect recovery, immediate when practicable, and under other circumstances gradual; second, that in making loans it is important to be thoroughly assured that the borrower is fairly able to meet his ordinary liabilities, and that his farm, whether large or small, is stocked or provided with means of cultivation; in other words, that he has sufficient capital or its equivalent to carry on the ordinary work of farming without loss. The Board have always inquired into these points, but the necessity for attention to them is obviously increasing. Apart from our primary duty to the State to avoid unsafe loans, we cannot but feel that to lend to a tenant whose circumstances render repayment difficult or impossible, is a doubtful benefit.

There exists on some estates a tendency to create what is known as a "hanging gale" on the Board's charges. This means that the rent-charge should be habitually six months in arrear, that the April gale should be paid in October, and the October gale in the following April, and that this system should be recognised and have the force of a custom. The experience of the Board is that in many instances delay in paying one gale leads to suspension of further payments. Apart from this it is unnecessary to point out that the terms on which advances are made are fixed on the assumption of punctuality, and cannot be violated without risk of loss to the Local Loans Fund. It has been said that the efforts made by the Board to ensure punctuality necessitates pressure on tenants. The cases which have come under notice are such as can be met without such pressure. The real difficulty is caused by accumulated arrears of instalments, by payments to puisne incumbrances, and even to owners, of sums which should be retained to meet payments to the Board on the point of accruing due. Receivers under the Landed Estates Court would be obliged to make provision for all fixed and ascertained liabilities under such circumstances, and it has not been found that their action has created a necessity for pressure on the tenants whose rents they collect. The endeavours of the Board have been gradual, and have given ample opportunity to make arrangements for the restoration of regularity without sudden cessation of payments to incumbrancers or owners, and without any necessity for pressure on tenants. All that is wanted is a fair observance of priorities, and it is felt that if this be adopted, agents will be relieved from the anxiety expressed in the isolated instances referred to.

In the course of the year, five railway Loans have been paid off, viz.:—

Donegal Railway,	13,000
West Donegal (now Donegal),	40,000
Clonakilty Extension,	20,000
Ilen Valley,	40,000
West Clare,	54,400

The last mentioned loan was secured on Baronial Guaranteed Shares.

The Clara and Banagher Railway has been sold to the Great Southern and Western Railway Company for £5,000. The Board has lent for the construction of this line £60,000, of which £30,000 was charged on the undertaking alone, and £30,000 on baronial cess as well as on the undertaking. Similarly, the Draperstown Railway, on which there was an outstanding principal debt to the Board of £15,000, has been sold for £2,000 to the Belfast and Northern Counties Railway Company. Bills authorizing both transfers have received the Royal Assent.

Taking advantage of the favourable state of the money market, the Pembroke Township Commissioners (Dublin) have issued Stock, and paid off the outstanding balance, amounting to £53,600, of the loans made by this Department. Similar arrangements were made during the financial year, and have been carried out since its close by Belfast and Kingstown. The Lurgan Town Commissioners are taking steps in the same direction.

V.—LEGISLATION IN 1894-95 AFFECTING SERVICES ADMINISTERED BY THE BOARD.

By the 4th Section of the Public Works Loan Act, 1894 (57 Vic., c. 11), annuities payable to the Land Commission were given priority in all cases over Loans by the Board to tenants under Sec. 31 of the Land Law Act, and under certain circumstances over Loans made by the Board under the Land Improvement Act.

By the Seed Potatoes Supply (Ireland) Act, 1895 (58 Vic., c. 2), the Board were empowered to make advances to Poor Law Unions for the purchase of seed potatoes to be supplied to occupiers who are unable to procure an adequate supply of same.

The amount so advanced up to the 31st March last was £21,937, and the further sum since advanced is £38,449, making a total of £60,386 to date.

These advances are to be repaid in two instalments—the first on the 1st August, 1896, and the second on the following 1st August. They are subject to interest at 3½ per cent. per annum, which is to be discharged out of the Irish Church Fund.

It will be remembered that, in 1893, an agreement was made for the sale to the Fishguard Bay Railway and Pier Company, Limited, of the Waterford and Wexford Railway, connecting Wexford with Rosslare, and of Rosslare Harbour. Amongst other conditions imposed on the purchasers were the obligation to repair the Railway and the works at the Harbour. The Railway was put in order and opened for traffic during the course of the year, and repairs are in progress at the Harbour, which has been found useful for the purposes of traffic within the period under report. A Bill vesting the Railway and Harbour in the purchasing Company received the Royal Assent on the 1st July, 1894.

The tolls and dues of the Shannon Navigation have within the year been brought under the operation of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888. In 1839, by 2 & 3 Vict., c. 61, a classification of goods was established and certain maximum charges permitted. These maximum charges were not fully enforced, but a schedule of tolls at lesser rates was adopted. To any alteration of this schedule the consent of the Treasury was necessary under the Statute last referred to, and although formal steps towards an increase were taken on one occasion, your Lordships finally decided that the then actual rates or "actuals" should remain undisturbed. In this state of things, the Board of Trade, in 1893, in exercise of its functions under the Railway and Canal Traffic Act of 1888, having called on us to frame a classification of traffic and schedule of maximum rates, we proceeded to comply, adopting the classification of traffic generally in use under the Act of 1888, and proposing a schedule of rates as nearly equivalent in its working to the maximum tolls and dues under the 2 & 3 Vic., c. 61, as the differences between the old and new classifications would permit. The Board of Trade, following the course generally adopted with regard to owners of waterways and railways and to carrying companies, substituted for the proposed schedule framed on the old maximum rates a schedule framed on the Board's "actuals." It was pointed out by the Board of Works that they collected tolls, &c., not for purposes of dividend or profit in any sense, but only with the object of providing for the maintenance of the Navigation, and that if "actuals" (with the other sources of available revenue) at any time proved insufficient for the latter purpose, the deficit would be thrown on the votes of Parliament, or the Navigation allowed to fall into disrepair and disuse. The question was ultimately settled by 57 & 58 Vict., ch. ccvi., by which, after full inquiry before a Committee of both Houses, a schedule was adopted which (1) fixed maximum tolls at a reduced but still sufficient margin over "actuals," (2) secured the Board its existing actuals, and (3) provided that the "actuals" as they stood at the passing of the Act shall not be raised without the assent of the Treasury to be communicated to the Houses of Parliament.

APPENDICES.

General Statement as to the Duties of the Board.

The general scope of these duties may be gathered from the following extract from the Report of the Committee appointed in 1870 to inquire into the administration by the Board of the services with which it is charged :—

> "The variety of those services is very great. The Commissioners not only conduct all the business which is delegated to two separate Boards in London (namely, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Works and Public Buildings, and the Public Works Loans Commissioners), and part of that which is intrusted to the Inclosure Commissioners (9 & 10 Vic., c. 101), but they also have under their charge a considerable amount of work which is not done in Great Britain at all by the Government, such as the maintenance of Inland Navigations, &c. ; they are likewise members of the Board of Control for Lunatic Asylums, and of the Board of Control over the Royal Canal.
> "To be charged with the lending of sums of public money is, of itself, a trust, the importance of which it is not easy to overrate ; and when to this is added the control of an expenditure of over £200,000 a year ; the care of a large amount of valuable public property ; the interpretation and administration of very numerous Acts of Parliament ; and the conduct of much extraneous business, some idea may be formed of the responsibilities thrown on this Board.
> "Moreover, the Board of Works occupies a position peculiar to itself. It is the only Department of the State which has under its charge loan operations as well as a large expenditure. In having to accommodate local authorities and individuals with capital, which they cannot so cheaply raise in the open market, and at the same time keep watch over a public expenditure, the Board has more or less conflicting interests to deal with ; it has to consult the special interests of localities and persons and at the same time to protect the general interests of the public. Its duties, therefore, may at times be attended with more than ordinary difficulties."

Since the date of that report the duties of the Board have been largely increased both by automatic development and as the result of legislation.

We may particularly refer to the loans authorised by the 31st Section of the Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881, under which £890,697 in 10,835 separate accounts has been advanced, the Sea Fisheries Ireland Act, 1883, the Ancient Monuments Acts, the numerous amendments and extensions of our powers to lend for local and educational purposes, and the important duties imposed upon us in connection with the schemes of railway extension presented under the Tramways and Public Companies (Ireland) Act, 1883, and the Light Railways (Ireland) Act, 1889.

Within the same period the duties of the Board have only been reduced by a reconstitution of the Board of Control, of which only the Chairman is now a member, though the whole clerical, accounting, draughtman's, and legal work is carried on by our staff, and by the transfer to the Congested Districts Board of the Sea Coast and Fisheries Fund and of the Irish Reproductive Loan Fund, with the exception of £20,000 which remains under our control.

In the Session of 1892 several Acts were passed affecting the status of the Board and their loan services.

By the Public Works Loans Act, 1892 (55 and 56 Vict., cap. 61, section 8), the Commissioners were incorporated for all the various duties they discharge with perpetual succession, and a common seal, with power to hold land, and such incorporation is thereby made retrospective as regards previous contracts or securities.

By the Ancient Monuments Protection Act, 1892 (55 and 56 Vict., cap. 46), the Ancient Monuments Protection Act, of 1882, has been extended, and by such extension the Commissioners have already become guardians of, and are thus enabled to protect and preserve monuments of historic and artistic interest which would otherwise be liable to be destroyed or become ruinous.

By the Drainage and Improvement of Lands (Ireland) Act, 1892 (55 and 56 Vict., cap. 65), tenants by agreement with their landlords or by order of the Board can promote and carry out Schemes for Arterial Drainage, under the Arterial Drainage Act of 1863, and the Acts amending and extending same.

By the same Acts, Sec. 11, we were given power to apportion charges for Drainage Maintenance on portions of lands liable to such a charge.

The Seed Potatoes (Ireland) Act, 1895 (58 Vic., c. 2) permitted the Board during the Spring of 1895 to make advances to Poor Law Unions for the purchase of Seed Potatoes.

(a) Including Relief of Distress Loans.

(b) Including Loans under 19th Section of the Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881.

The business done under this service reached its lowest point in number of applications in 1888–89. Since that year there has been a decided increase. The number of applications received during the year 1894–95 was 342, showing an increase of nearly 5 per cent. on those received during the previous year. About one-third of the applicants are purchasers under the Land Purchase Acts, and it is probable that this class will avail itself largely of loans under the Land Improvement Acts.

Under this head 3,196 loans have been sanctioned since the passing of the Act 13 and 14 Vic., c. 19, the amount being £1,212,360. This includes 295 loans, for £26,745, approved during the past financial year.

Dwellings for Agricultural Labourers.

For this class of work the number of loans sanctioned since the passing of the Act 23 Vic., c. 19, which first authorised such advances, is 758, for £350,654, 22 of which, amounting to £4,794, were approved in the year.

Under section 19 of the Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881, we have power to make advances to tenant farmers, who, pursuant to the injunctions of the Irish Land Commission, and as a condition attached to the fixing of a "fair rent," proceed to erect labourers' dwellings on their holdings. Such tenants are deemed to be persons to whom a loan may be made under the Landed Property Improvement (Ireland) Acts, for the improvement or building of dwellings for labourers, as if such persons were owners within the meaning of the Act 10 Vic., c. 32, sec. 7. One loan for £24 was sanctioned under this section within the year ending 31st March, 1895. Under this provision 258 loans, amounting to £15,090, have been sanctioned since the Act came into operation, the instalments issued amounting to £13,684.

Advances for this purpose are also made under section 31 of the Land Law Act, 1881. See Table of Expenditure under this section, p. 37.

The following Table shows the number and amount of Loans sanctioned for Dwellings for Agricultural Labourers under the Act 23 Vic., cap. 19, and the Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881, sec. 19, since the passing of the Labourers' Acts, 1883 and 1885.

Loans to Tenants for Improvement of Holdings, or "Land Law Loans."

(See p. 16).

Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881, Section 31.

Under section 31 of the above Act, under which loans to tenants are generally made, the number of loans sanctioned since our last report was 479, amounting to £40,125, the sum issued being £36,360. This makes the total of loans sanctioned under the section from the date of the Act to 31st March, 1895, 12,205—amount sanctioned, £1,049,232, the instalments issued reaching £890,697.

The number of applications for loans lodged during the year 1894–95 was 776, being an increase of 28 from last year. Of this number 40 were received from occupying owners, who were prevented by some feature in their application from proceeding under the Land Improvement Act.

The following table gives the distribution by Counties of the sums issued for all classes of work under the 31st Section of the Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881 :—

No loans or advances under previous loans were made from this fund during the year.

Out of £1,269,932 advanced from the Irish Church Fund under the Relief of Distress Act of 1880, £550,204 has been repaid, £29,296 has been remitted, and of the balance outstanding, £690,432, £681,495 is not yet due, and £8,937 is in arrear. The arrears have decreased during the year by £315.

The rate of interest on these loans is 1 per cent., but borrowers paying land improvement and arterial drainage charges, are allowed to redeem their principal liabilities on the basis of 3 per cent. interest. The principal cancelled by such redemptions now amounts to £10,227, including £960 in the present year.

The annual fishery return to April, 1895, shows there were 10,911 hampers landed in the year, as against 10,072 to same date in 1894, an increase of 839.

The number of boats remained about the same, namely 50.

Besides the fish landed here by these boats they landed large quantities at Skerries and Howth.

The fishermen consider they have had a very good season.

The local long-line fishing has been better than it has been for several years.

The herring and mackerel fishing for the local boats was very bad.

No lobsters or crabs are caught here, but prawns are got by the trawlers.

Howth Harbour.

The imports to Howth Harbour for the past year show a considerable increase in coal, the total quantity was 4,174 tons, being an increase of 1,738 tons over the previous year.

The exports were nil.

The hook-line fishing has been very successful, and closely followed the entire year. The total quantity of line fish caught was 15,811 cleaves, which sold for £12,556 4*s.*, being an average of 15*s.* 10½*d.* per cleave.

The herring fishing was again a complete failure. Several Scotch boats tried the fishing on their way home from the fishing in the South of Ireland, but were unsuccessful. The number of mease landed was 27, which sold for £18 14*s.* 6*d.*, being an average of 13*s.* 10*d.* per mease.

The total money realized for fish sold was :—

	£	s.	d.
Hooked Fish, ...	12,556	4	0
Herrings, ...	18	14	6

being an increase of £1,548 10*s.* 6*d.* over the previous year.

The Harbour is frequently used during the winter months by a considerable number of Dublin (Ringsend) trawlers as a port of refuge, also by trading vessels seeking shelter and waiting for tides to get into Malahide and Rogerstown.

Ardglass.

Herring Fishing.

Herring fishing commenced on 22nd May and continued up to 12th October, and there was no improvement on previous years, either in quantity or quality or price, in fact the take was less by 973 mease than the take of the previous year. The total capture for this year was 7,762 mease, and the total value £5,176 19*s.* 9*d.* The price during the season ranged from 8*s.* to 40*s.* per mease, the average price being 13*s.* 4*d.* per mease.

Number of boats fishing from the station equal 33 Scotch, 24 Manx, and 95 Irish, in all equal to 152 boats or 23 less than the previous year.

Mixed Fish.—Hand-Line and Trawling.

During the past year hand-line fishing increased here very much. At times, 11 yawls (nearly all new) were engaged at it, and about 16 of the large sized herring boats belonging to this neighbourhood were engaged at trawling. The quantity of mixed fish sold at this port during the year was about 219 tons, and the estimated amount received equal to £2,090 12*s.* 10*d.*, but this would not represent the total amount earned as the trawlers frequently sold their fish at other ports. The great increase in the number of hand-line fishermen at this place is caused by the return of the haddock to this part of the coast.

In addition to above 12 tug boats called either for shelter or for orders.

Fourteen sailing vessels called for shelter.

Eight small steamers called for shelter.

During the year the trade of the port was a little better than last year. The cargo tonnage on coal was 333 tons more imported, and in potatoes 398 tons more exported, and in other items of salt and timber 95 tons over the sundries of last year, making in all a total of 826 cargo tons over the trade of last year.

Donaghadee Harbour, County Down.

In addition to the damage to the ss. "Faun" two other casualties occurred in the Harbour on the 21st of December last, one to an open diving boat 15 tons register; she was filled by the waves, turned over on her beam ends, and remained in that position at her moorings until the weather moderated, when she was righted without damage.

The other to a schooner moored abreast of Lemon's wharf, her stern moorings carried away, she swung into the dock and damaged three small pleasure boats moored there; the owner of one intends suing the owner of the schooner at the next Quarter Sessions, held at Newtownards on the 5th April, for the cost of repairs.

One vessel only arrived during the year in distress, with loss of anchors, chain, cables, and part of her sails, but the Harbour authorities succeeded in berthing her without damage.

The import of coal for the year has been 16,273 tons, last year the import was 16,169 tons, increase 104 tons; no doubt the increase would have been greater, but three of the regular traders to this port were lost this year, and have not yet been replaced, their total carrying capacity was 508 tons.

The export of bricks for the year has been 287 tons, last year the export was 402 tons, a decrease this year of 115 tons. The fishing industry has been a failure at this port during the year; the failure has been caused by the stormy and unsuitable weather throughout; the grand total captured this year is 2,317 score, last year the grand total captured was 5,423 score; five mease of fresh herrings were landed and sold at 12*s.* 6*d.* per mease, and 230 mease of salt herrings at 12*s.* 6*d.* per mease, those herrings are imported from the Scotch fishing ports.

Annual Return showing the Harbour Service for the twelve months ending the 31st of March, 1895.

Shipping.—Tonnage entering the Harbour with cargoes to discharge or load :—108 vessels; 8,697 tons.

Entering the Harbour for shelter :—24 vessels; 1,053 tons.

Number of tons of coal imported :—16,273 tons.

Other merchandise imported and exported :—Imported, granite 57 tons; maize, 74 tons; scrap iron, 95 tons. Exported, bricks, 287 tons.

Fishing vessels resorting to the Harbour for shelter, their tonnage, and number of men; 7 vessels, 106 tons, 45 men.

Quantity of salt herrings landed, sold, and price sold at :—230 mease, at 12*s.* 6*d.* per mease. Total price £143 15*s.*

Number of tugboats, and yachts using the harbour :—Tugboats, 78; yachts, 36.

Dunmore Harbour.

The herring fishing commenced on the 2nd May, 1894, the takes were light and the quality indifferent until the 17th October, when large shoals of prime fish made their appearance. In consequence of the stormy weather the fishing had to be abandoned. This caused a serious loss both to fishermen and buyers. The amount of herring sold was only 1,315 mease.

The beam trawlers had a very poor season. This industry is failing very much of late years.

The otter trawl boats, principally Dungarvan hookers, fishing within the headlands of Waterford Harbour during the spring and summer months, were more successful. They had some large takes of prime plaice. The shell fishers who ply their calling off this part of the coast had a very poor season. Fish was scarce and prices were low. Lobsters fell as low as 7*s.* and crabs 1*s.* 6*d.* per dozen, respectively.

The boats engaged in the salmon fishing on the lower waters of the Suir and Barrow, the takes were light and did not improve until the season was well advanced, when large quantities of peal set in. The weirs done better than the drift nets.

The amount of fish landed and sold was as follows, viz. :—Herrings, 1,315 mease, amount realised, £627 17*s.* 6*d.*; trawl and other fish, 4,468 cwt.; amount realised, £1,550 11*s.* 11*d.*

The number of boats that fished out of the harbour for the past year were :—trawlers, Irish 12, English 3; herring boats, Irish 53, Scotch 4; lobster, Irish 7. Total tonnage 1,254 tons, men and boys 523.

The number of trading vessels that entered the harbour within the past year was 14, men employed on board 71.

The imports and exports were as follows, viz. :—

APPENDIX H.

National and Ancient Monuments.

Irish Church Act, 1869, 32 & 33 Vic., c. 42; Ancient Monuments Protection Act, 1882, 45 & 46 Vic., c. 73; Ancient Monuments Protection Act, 1892, 55 & 56 Vic., c. 46.

The ruins vested in the Board under the Irish Church Act of 1869 and under the Act of 1882 are, generally, in a good state of preservation.

A number of additional monuments have been vested under the provisions of the Ancient Monuments Protection Act of 1892. Amongst these are—Dunbrody Abbey, Askeaton Castle, Oughterard Round Tower and Church, Roscommon Castle, Slane Abbey, St. Dominick's Church, Cashel, Sligo Abbey. Besides these there are numerous other ruins awaiting the completion of vesting orders.

BOYLE ABBEY, CO. ROSCOMMON.

The works necessary for the preservation of this Abbey were undertaken and carried out during the past year. The ivy had completely enveloped the building, and so disturbed the stones, that the whole fabric was in danger of falling. It was difficult to deal with a ruin in this condition, and the utmost care had to be taken with the work of removing the ivy, which was satisfactorily executed. The Abbey is Cistercian. From the time of its erection it suffered from attacks by contending parties, and it was finally, in Cromwellian times, converted into a barrack. The cloisters disappeared, and the cloister garth was turned into the barrack square. Many interesting discoveries have been made indicating the original plan of the building. Amongst quantities of hewn and moulded stones, are some showing traces, in the character of their sculpture and moulding, of a much earlier structure than that now in existence.

KILLOWEN ABBEY, CO. CLARE.

This Abbey was founded in 1190 by Donald O'Brien for Nuns of the Order of St. Augustine, and dedicated to St. John the Baptist. Considerable works have been carried out. The eastern windows, which were in a dilapidated condition, have been secured from further injury. The general repairs consisted of the building up of great gaps and the concreting of the tops of the walls. It was found necessary to remove much ivy in the course of the work.

ROCK OF CASHEL, CORMAC'S CHAPEL AND CATHEDRAL.

Pointing to a considerable extent has been done in order to staunch leaks in the stone roof of Cormac's Chapel. The Cathedral is in no need of further repair for the present.

ST. DOMINICK'S ABBEY, CASHEL.

The nave, aisle, and side chapel were in a lamentable state of decay. The western front was much in need of repair. Works of preservation are in progress.

MONASTERNENAGH, CO. LIMERICK.

This is a large Cistercian Abbey of Norman character, founded in 1148. Works of repair are in progress. The eastern end fell some years ago, but it is hoped that the debris will be found to contain the missing jamb and arch stones of the three-light window, part of which is standing. If this proves to be the case, the window can be reconstituted from the old materials. The heavy ivy is being removed, and other necessary repairs are in course of execution. The size of this Abbey and the ruinous condition into which it has fallen, will render its repair expensive.

ASKEATON CASTLE.

This building at which it is proposed to commence work as soon as Monasternenagh is disposed of belonged to the Earls of Desmond. It contains a fine banqueting hall and much of the keep is standing. The seventh Earl of Desmond, in 1420, founded here an Abbey for Conventual Franciscans, which is a picturesque and extensive ruin. The Castle and Abbey, with the remains of the ancient walls of the town, form a most interesting group.

Works of repair have been carried out at Athenry Abbey and Abbey Knockmoy.

THE FORTY-FOURTH REPORT

Of the COMMISSIONER in charge of the WOODS, ROYAL FORESTS, CROWN, and certain other ALLOTMENTS in England; of the LAND REVENUE of the CROWN in Scotland, Ireland, Wales, and in the Isles of Man and Alderney; and of the FEE FARM and other UNIMPROVABLE RENTS of the CROWN in Wales, under a Warrant of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, dated the 6th May 1895.

UPON the 27th of April last Her Majesty was pleased to appoint John Francis Fortescue Horner, Esquire, to be a Commissioner of Woods, Forests, and Land Revenues, in the place of Sir Robert Nigel Fitzhardinge Kingscote, K.C.B. (retired), and by a Warrant, dated the 6th of May 1895, a copy of which is inserted in Appendix No. 1 (page 18), the Lords of the Treasury assigned to me the management of all the Land Revenues of the Crown in Wales, Scotland, Ireland, and the Isles of Man and Alderney; the New Forest, in the County of Southampton; Dean Forest, in the County of Gloucester; and certain other Woodlands and Manors in England, and assigned to Mr. Horner the management of the residue of the property in England.

By the Crown Lands Act, 1894, 57 & 58 Vict. c. 43, which received the Royal Assent on 25th August last, several of the recommendations of the Select Committee, which reported on the Woods and Forests in July 1890, have received legislative effect in whole or in part. The powers of investment of capital monies have been extended so as to include the modes of investment authorised by Section 1 of the Trustee Act, 1893, the expenditure on improvements has been placed on a footing analogous to that sanctioned by the Settled Land Act, 1882, and various other matters of administrative detail have been improved. I regret that, notwithstanding an earnest effort on my part, the recommendation of the Committee for the extension of the powers given by Section 97 of 10 Geo. 4, c. 50, to the granting of leases for ordinary roads and tramways, for allotment gardens and for sewage, gas and water works, or other works of public utility in the Royal Forests, remains unfulfilled. I am still endeavouring to conciliate the interests which have hitherto stood in the way of this much needed change with a view to coming to some satisfactory arrangement, which may be subsequently passed into law.

In obedience to the directions contained in the Acts 10 Geo. 4, c. 50, and 11 & 12 Vict. c. 102, and 14 & 15 Vict. c. 42, I have to report to Her Majesty, and to the Houses of Parliament, what has been done in the management of the Hereditary Possessions of the Crown in charge with me, in the year ended 31st March 1895.

The property assigned to my management by the Treasury Order, set out in extenso on pages 18 and 19 of this Report, consists of the following, namely :—

1. The New Forest, including Bere, Parkhurst, Woolmer, and Alice Holt Woods, and the Manor of Lyndhurst.

2. Dean Forest, including Highmeadow and Great Doward Woods, and the Manors of St. Briavels, Staunton, and English Bicknor.

3. The whole Crown property in Wales, County Monmouth, in Scotland, in Ireland, in the Isles of Man and Alderney.

NEW FOREST.

THE income derived from the New Forest consists of Receipts from Sales of Forest produce, amounting in the year 1894–95 to £. 7,433. 8. 3., and certain surface rents, amounting in the same year to £. 3,161. 14. 2.

In the month of January last application was made to me by the General Commanding Her Majesty's Troops at Aldershot for permission to use a portion of the New Forest for the usual autumn manœuvres. After satisfying myself that no damage was likely to arise to any interest in the Forest which would not be fully compensated by the War Department, I agreed to grant the desired permission, conceiving it to be reasonable that the Crown property should be placed at the service of the State.

DEAN FOREST.

THE income derived from Dean Forest consists of Receipts from Sales of Forest produce, amounting in the year 1894–95 to £. 6,524. 13. 7., and certain Surface rents, amounting to £. 1,606. 10. 7.

Besides the income derived from the surface, the mineral Royalties of the Forest are considerable, averaging £. 13,800.

In my last Report I referred to certain negotiations with the Midland and Great Western Railway Companies with a view to obtain reduced railway rates in the Forest. The immediate occasion of the negotiations was a Bill introduced by the Companies named for transferring to them as a joint line the undertaking of the Severn and Wye and Severn Bridge Railway Companies. The majority of the forest traders, who had opposed the Bill in its earlier stages, withdrew from their opposition on terms which were considered not unfavourable. I understand the rates have, in some instances, been modified, but there are possible developments of industry in the Forest of Dean, notably in stone quarrying, which are not likely to be realized, unless more favourable rates are conceded by the railway companies.

Appendix, No. 1. THE APPENDIX, No. 1, contains a copy of the Treasury Warrant assigning separate duties to the Commissioners of Woods.

Appendix, No. 2. THE Accounts give in detail the Receipts and Expenditure on account of the Surface of the Royal Forests and Woodlands, but the Receipt and Expenditure on account of the Mines in the Forests are included in the Mines Account under the general head of England. A Statement is therefore appended, giving in detail the Receipt and Expenditure in respect of Mines and Quarries in the Royal Forests and Woodlands.

For a similar reason a Statement is also appended of the Receipts and Expenditure on account of the Crown Manors in New and Dean Forests, which are under my management, and which in the Accounts are included with England. Appendix, No. 3.

The Appendix, No. 4, contains the particulars of three Leases granted of premises in the Royal Forests, Woodlands, and Lands formerly part of Royal Forests under my charge. Appendix, No. 4.

The Appendix, No. 5, contains the particulars of a Sale of Land in the Manor of English Bicknor. Appendix, No. 5.

The Appendix, No. 6, contains the particulars of 19 Conveyances made to certain persons pursuant to the Act 10 Geo. 4, c. 50, of the Crown's interest in and over certain pieces of waste land in the Forest of Dean, which are wholly or in part surrounded by, intermixed with, or contiguous to, other lands not the property of the Crown. Appendix, No. 6.

The Appendix, No. 7, contains the particulars of four Leases or Licences of Lands, part of the waste land of the Forest of Dean, for the better working of certain Gales under the powers of the Acts 1 & 2 Vict. c. 43, and 24 & 25 Vict. c. 40. Appendix, No. 7.

The Appendix, No. 8, contains the particulars of eight Leases of Stone Quarries in the Forest of Dean, granted pursuant to the Acts 1 & 2 Vict. c. 43, and 24 & 25 Vict. c. 40. Appendix, No. 8.

The Appendix, No. 9, contains the particulars of nine Gales of Coal in the Forest of Dean and Hundred of St. Briavels, granted in pursuance of the Acts 1 & 2 Vict. c. 43, and 24 & 25 Vict. c. 40. Appendix, No. 9.

The Appendix, No. 10, contains the particulars of a purchase in High-meadow, made on behalf of Her Majesty. Appendix, No. 10.

SCOTLAND.

The Crown property in Scotland produced during the year an income of £. 23,562. 5. 6., derived from the undermentioned sources :—

Feu Duties	11,316	8	3
Casualties	460	2	3
Surplus Teinds	1,713	19	2
Rents of Land, Shootings, &c.	2,154	1	10
Rents of Fishings (chiefly Salmon Fishings)	6,259	11	6
Rents of Mines (one-half carried to Capital)	1,658	2	6
£.	23,562	5	6

The arrears at the close of the financial year amounted to £. 7,655. 16. 1.

The Law Charges in Scotland relating to Crown property are included in the Vote for Courts of Law and Justice, Scotland. In the year to 31st March 1895 the amount paid was £. 443. 18. 9.

In my last Report I expressed the hope of being shortly in a position to give effect to the recommendation of the Committee appointed by the Secretary for Scotland which in 1890 reported in favour of allowing local fishermen to fish for salmon on suitable parts of the coast on payment of a license.

In the month of June 1894 I spent about 10 days in examining personally the coast of Scotland from Burnmouth, County Berwick, to Macduff, County Banff. I arranged interviews with fishermen at convenient places, and discussed with them the terms and conditions on which they desired to obtain licenses. Generally I found the fishermen unwilling to entertain the idea of paying more than a very small fee, and the desire to engage in salmon fishing did not prove so strong or widespread as I had been led to anticipate, except in a few places. In order to give the scheme a fair trial I selected 38 portions of the coast at convenient distances apart, and offered licenses in accordance with the following scheme:—

SALMON FISHINGS.

Particulars of Licenses.

Counties of Berwick, Haddington, Edinburgh, Linlithgow, Fife, Kincardine, Aberdeen, Banff, Ross, Caithness, Inverness, Argyll, Ayr, Wigtown, and Kirkcudbright.

Mr. Edward Stafford Howard, the Commissioner of Woods, &c., in charge of the Land Revenues of the Crown in Scotland, is prepared to grant a limited number of licenses to exercise the right of fishing for and taking salmon, and fish of the salmon kind, in the sea, ex adverso of the lands described in the annexed Schedule, upon the following terms and conditions, viz.:—

1. The license will be expressed as for one year only, from Martinmas 1894 to Martinmas 1895, but its operation will be limited to the legal fishing season in the district, and it will be determinable as hereinafter mentioned.

2. It will not be transferable, but limited strictly to the person to whom it is granted.

3. It will be subject to the Acts of Parliament which are now in force or which may hereafter be enacted relating to salmon fishings in Scotland, and to the rules and regulations made in pursuance of such Acts.

4. It will authorise such legal mode of fishing as the Commissioner may specify in the license, but no stake net, bag net, or other fixed engine of whatsoever kind will be authorised by the license unless at the request of all the licensees of a particular fishing, and with the special authority of the Commissioner.

5. No one licensee, though having a prior grant, will have any kind of preference over any other licensees to the number in each case shown in the subjoined schedule, but all will fish with an equal and concurrent right.

6. The rent for each license will be payable in advance to the Crown Receiver at Edinburgh according to the scale of the annexed Schedule; no additional charges will be made for the form of license.

7. The

7. The license will be terminable by the Commissioner of Woods in the event—

(1.) Of the breach by the licensee of any of the conditions of the license.

Note.—The Commissioner of Woods is prepared to consider offers for a lease of mussel fishings in a portion of the Beauly Firth.

The result was that out of 386 licences offered only 73 were applied for. I am unable as yet to report what success has attended the efforts of the licensees, but I propose to give the scheme a further trial for the next fishing season. A copy of the form of licence is printed on pages 36 and 37, as Appendix No. 13 to this Report.

Appendix, No. 11. THE APPENDIX, No. 11, contains the particulars of 44 leases of salmon fishings in Scotland. The rents reserved in these leases amount to the sum of £. 4,016. 15.

Appendix, No. 12. THE APPENDIX, No. 12, contains the particulars of 73 licenses for one year to fish within salmon fishings in Scotland. The fees paid for these licenses amount to the sum of £. 72. 18.

Appendix, No. 13. THE APPENDIX, No. 13, is a copy of the form of license.

Appendix, No. 14. THE APPENDIX, No. 14, contains the particulars of two leases of Crown property in Scotland, one being a lease of a cottage at a rent of £. 15. 5. per annum, and one of under-sea coal in Stirling, at a minimum rent of £. 125. per annum.

Appendix, No. 15. THE APPENDIX, No. 15, contains the particulars of four sales of surplus teinds, the consideration money amounting to £. 32. 13. 7.

IRELAND.

THE produce of the Crown Rents and Duties in Ireland during the year amounts to the sum of £. 38,676. 0. 3. made up as follows:—

	£.	s.	d.
Quit and other unimprovable Rents, including acquittance fees	38,295	1	5
Rents of Lands, &c. - - - - - - - - -	301	4	0

The arrears at the 31st March 1894 stood at £. 14,330. 13. 1.; at 31st March 1895 they stand at £. 4,561. 1. 11., being a reduction of £. 9,769. 11. 2.

The revenue derived from Ireland consists mainly of Quit Rents payable by Landowners. The collection for the last 15 years is shown in the following table:—

Considering that rents amounting to £. 3,964 per annum have been sold in the period, and that the receipt in 1895 is only £. 814 less than that of 1881, it follows that the rents are now being more punctually paid.

The Appendix, No. 16, contains a Schedule of Perpetual and Unimprovable Rents payable to the Crown in Ireland which have been sold during the year. The Rents sold amount to £. 624. 0. 9.; the purchase monies received amount to the sum of £. 15,823. 10. 11. Appendix, No. 16.

WALES.

THE amount of Crown Rents and Duties collected during the year on account of Crown property in Wales is £. 13,282. 6. 11., and this amount consists of the following items:—

	£.	s.	d.
Fee Farm, Quit, and other Unimprovable Rents - - -	1,769	12	5
Rents of Land, Shooting, &c. - - - - - -	3,798	6	3

The arrears at 31st March last amounted to £. 2,029. 2. 3.

Representations having been made to me in favour of carrying out planting operations on parts of the crown wastes in Wales, I took the opportunity during October 1894 of going over those in the neighbourhood of Denbigh, and had a meeting with some of the local farmers who were interested as having sheep-walks or common rights upon them.

Whilst it seemed quite possible to select places where trees could grow and do well, there are many other considerations which must be carefully weighed before any definite proposal of the kind can be made which may give reasonable hope of success. The common rights would have to be extinguished where the plantations were made, and owing to the fact that though these wastes are unfenced each owner of common right has in practice his own particular sheep-walk, there would be some difficulty in arranging how the rights of the commoners should be re-adjusted. To deprive one of these hill farms of its sheep-walk would probably be held to seriously damage the value of the farm as a whole.

The accessibility of the ground, the nearness of railway communication are also serious factors in the problem, and I am therefore taking such opportunities as I can to visit the wastes in other parts of North Wales before attempting to make any definite proposals in connection with any one of them.

A small plantation, mainly for the purposes of shelter, has been made on a small Crown farm in Merioneth adjoining the waste of Maentwrog Mountain. The very severe weather experienced last winter greatly interfered with the work and added to the expense, and the exceptionally dry spring has proved very trying to the young trees, most of which, however, were doing well when I inspected it in the month of June 1895.

The

The past year has witnessed a renewal of interest in gold mining in Wales. The success which has attended the operations carried on at the two Mines which have been established for some years has, no doubt, encouraged others to explore similar ground in the district.

The policy which has been adopted by the Crown has been to give the utmost facility to search for the precious metals, with the result that at the present time there are several bonâ fide attempts being made to establish a gold mining industry in Merionethshire. As might be expected the successful working of one or two mines leads to numerous applications for the grant of setts in the immediate neighbourhood. Although these applications are generally acceded to by the Crown, it may be well that the general public should not attach undue importance to the existence of a Crown license to search for gold for a period of 12 months.

THE APPENDIX, No. 23, contains the particulars of 21 leases of Crown property in Wales which have been granted during the year. Of these, four are of mines and quarries, the minimum rents reserved in which amount to £. 63. per annum; one is of foreshore and shore land, the rent being £. 5. per annum; 10 are of land and buildings, the rents amounting to £. 38. 12. per annum; four are of sporting, the rents of which amount to £. 292. per annum; and two are of rights of constructing and maintaining lines of pipe, the rents amounting to £. 4. 12. 6. per annum. Appendix, No. 23.

THE APPENDIX, No. 24, contains the particulars of one sale by public auction of Crown land in Wales, the purchase money for which is £. 200. Appendix, No. 24.

THE APPENDIX, No. 25, contains the particulars of 24 sales by private contract of Crown property in Wales, eight of which are of land, the purchase monies for which amount to £. 191. 5., one is a right of use of land, the purchase money for which is £. 25.; 13 are of encroachments upon Crown property, the purchase monies for which amount to £. 61. 11.; one is of minerals and sporting, the purchase money for which is £. 5.; and one is of sporting only, the purchase money for which is £. 5. Appendix, No. 25.

THE APPENDIX, No. 26, contains the particulars of sales of Unimprovable Rents payable to the Crown, and issuing out of the Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments in Wales. Appendix, No. 26.

The rents sold amount altogether to the sum of £. 3. 7. 1½.

The purchase monies amount to £. 83. 18. 2.

THE APPENDIX, No. 27, contains the particulars of an Exchange of Crown land in Wales. Appendix, No. 27.

THE APPENDIX, No. 28, contains the particulars of a purchase of Land in Wales, made on behalf of Her Majesty, at the price of £. 330. Appendix, No. 28.

ISLE OF ALDERNEY.

In my last Report I referred to the matter of improved harbour accommodation in the Isle of Alderney, which had then already engaged my attention. I have recently obtained the necessary approval of a scheme which, when carried out will, I trust, further the prosperity of the Island, by the development of the excellent quarries of granite, which belong to the Crown there. In consideration of obtaining better harbour accommodation, the States of the Island have agreed to meet out of their local revenue certain charges for insular administration, which, at present, are defrayed out of the Land Revenues of the Crown.

By a Resolution of the Committee of the House of Commons appointed to inquire into the management of the Department, the following Schedules were required to be inserted in each Annual Report, viz. :—

1st. Of Rents put in charge with the several Receivers of the Land Revenue in respect of property acquired for Her Majesty by purchase, lease, exchange, or otherwise.

2nd. Of the Rents discharged from the Rentals of the several Receivers in respect of property sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of.

3rd. Of all Monies due to Her Majesty in respect of the Rents in charge with the several Receivers of Land Revenue under leases, or agreements for leases, and which shall have been owing for a greater period than a year, showing the term during which each arrear shall have been accruing, and the measures (if any) in progress for the recovery of the same.

4th. Of all Monies remitted, on Her Majesty's behalf, in respect of any Rents in charge with the same Receivers, specifying whether any previous remission has taken place in respect of the same Rent, and the circumstances and authority under which remitted.

5th. Of all defalcations that shall have taken place in respect of Monies due and owing to Her Majesty, specifying the circumstances under which such defalcation shall have taken place, and the means (if any) taken for the recovery of the monies.

Appendix, No. 29 (A.), (B.), (C.), (D.).

I regret that on this occasion it is necessary, for the purposes of this Report, to introduce not only the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th Schedules, but also the 5th Schedule. Thomas Campbell, who was a foreman at Parkhurst Woods, appropriated to his own use certain sums of money which came into his hands in the ordinary course of his duty. The particulars are given in the Appendix, and I have only to add that Campbell was tried at the Winchester Assizes, and was sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment. His sureties have been called upon to pay in terms of the bond into which they entered.

ACCOUNTS.

THE APPENDIX (A.A.) contains an Account of the Monies derived from the Hereditary Possessions of the Crown, under the management of the Commissioners of Woods, Forests, and Land Revenues, received within the year ended 31st March 1895, and the application of all such Monies, including payment into the Exchequer of the Surplus Income arising from the Possessions and Land Revenues of the Crown during the same period. Appendix (A.A.).

The Account for the preceding year, ended on the 31st March 1894, has been audited, and the subsequent Monthly Accounts have been rendered to the Comptroller and Auditor General for the period up to and including the month of February last.

THE FORTY-FOURTH REPORT

Of the COMMISSIONER in charge of the LAND REVENUES of the CROWN in England, under a Warrant of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, dated the 6th May 1895.

UPON the 3rd of March last my predecessor, Colonel Sir Robert Nigel Fitzhardinge Kingscote, K.C.B., retired in accordance with the provisions of the Order in Council of the 15th August 1890, from the office of a Commissioner of Her Majesty's Woods, Forests, and Land Revenues, having held that office for exactly 10 years.

The Land Revenues which were in charge with him have now been assigned to my management by the Treasury Warrant of the 6th May last, above referred to, and before reporting the proceedings of the past year relative thereto, it may be convenient to shortly summarise the results of the last 10 years' administration.

In the Sixty-third Report of the Commissioners of Woods (for the year 1885), the objects which they had endeavoured to carry out since the separation in 1851 of the Office of Woods from that of Works are stated to have been—

1. The sale of detached manors, estates, and plots of land, &c.

2. The purchase of ground rents and of large estates, and of farms, &c., adjacent to other Crown estates, with a view to the consolidation of those estates, and consequent economy of management.

3. The execution of various land improvements, viz., the reclamation, planting, and under-drainage of land, and the erection, repair, and re-arrangement of farm houses, farm buildings, and cottages for labourers.

and in the same Report are given the general result of those endeavours to the 31st March 1885.

During the period of Sir Nigel Kingscote's tenure of office, he followed the same general policy in the management of the estates, &c., placed under his charge, and in the 10 years ended on the 31st March last, there have been effected—

1. Sales of various parcels of land, enfranchisements of copyholds, &c., realising a total sum of - - - - -	220,642
2. Purchases of ground rents, and other properties, exchanges, redemption of land tax, or other incumbrances, at a total expenditure of - - - - - - - - -	657,338

The more important purchases were of ground rents in different parts of London with the reversion expectant on the determination of the leases. The rents so acquired amount to £. 22,681 per annum, and the purchase monies to £. 596,353, being at an average rate of rather less than 26¼ years' purchase.

3. Improvements of land and buildings, comprising (a) the under-drainage of 1,530 acres, and the re-drainage of 1,306 acres; (b) the construction of 15 new farmhouses or farmsteads, and the improvement of 145 others; (c) the erection of 41 new cottages, and the improvement of 20 others.

The expenditure during the 10 years on these and other works of permanent improvement has been £. 115,000, which has, in pursuance of the Crown Lands Act, 1866, been temporarily charged to capital, and is being repaid by annual instalments out of income.

The gross receipts in the year to the 31st March 1885 from the properties (other than the Windsor Parks and Woods) then in charge with my predecessor amounted, after deducting allowances made to agricultural tenants, to £.343,862. Since that date the receipts from agricultural lands have diminished by about £. 16,000, due principally to the lower rents now obtained, but partly to the fact that there are, unfortunately, about 1,000 acres more in hand now than there were on the 31st March 1885.

On the other hand, the collection from the properties now in charge with me (excluding the Windsor Parks and Woods) has been increased since 1885 by the transfer to my predecessor in 1891 of the management of the fee farm rents in England, by the purchases above-mentioned, and by the passing of the Tithe Act, 1891, under which tithe rent charge on the Crown lands became payable by this department, and is now either included in the rents where new lettings have been arranged or collected in addition to the rents where the lettings have not been re-arranged.

After making allowance for these alterations it is highly satisfactory to find that the gross receipts from the properties under my charge (other than Windsor Parks and Woods), after deducting allowances to tenants, amounted in the past year to £. 398,672. This represents an annual increase over the sum collected in the year ended 31st March 1885 of about £. 54,810, but when the reduction in the agricultural rental is considered, it shows that an increased revenue of about £. 70,810 has been obtained from sources other than agricultural land.

This increased revenue appears to have been derived as shown in the following statement, viz. :—

	£.	s.	d.
Fee farm rents, transferred as before mentioned	1,190	–	–
Receipts from purchased properties, after deducting the revenue lost by sales, &c.	19,500	–	–
Tithe rent-charge, being included in the rental	4,700	–	–
Increased receipts from mineral properties	9,000	–	–
Increased rents on re-lettings, principally for building purposes in London	36,420	–	–
TOTAL £.	70,810	–	–

The policy pursued by my predecessor appears to have been sound, and his administration has been beneficial to the Land Revenues.

I now proceed in compliance with the directions contained in the Acts 10 Geo. 4, c. 50, 11 & 12 Vict. c. 102, and 14 & 15 Vict. c. 42, to report to Her Majesty and the Houses of Parliament what has been done in the year ended on the 31st March last in the management of those portions of the hereditary possessions of the Crown which are in charge with me.

The

The property in charge with me consists of the following:—

Description of Crown Estates.

1. Windsor Great Park, Plantations, and Property at Ascot, Bagshot, and Virginia Water, &c.

2. Manors, Messuages, Land, Fee Farm Rents, &c., in various parts of England.

The property described under the first head consists of more than 14,000 acres, of which about 2,650 are let to tenants, and the remainder is in hand, being either planted and under the growth of timber, heathland, or pasture in the Park. The greater part of the land in hand is maintained as part of the domain attached to the residence of the Sovereign, and, like the Royal Parks in London, is largely used by the public for purposes of recreation.

Details of the Receipt and Expenditure upon the property described under the first head are given at pages 146 and 147.

In addition to the sums there shown as received, a further sum of about £. 380 was received during the year for gravel, clay, &c., obtained from the premises described under the first head, but that sum is credited to the Mines Account, pages 162 and 163, in accordance with the provisions of the Crown Lands Act, 1894.

The property described under the second head consists of (1) about 70,000 acres of land appropriated to agricultural purposes, of which about 2,519 acres are in hand; (2) about 446 houses, let at rack-rents, or at rents that have been fined down from rack-rents; (3) about 5,905 houses that have been built by Crown Lessees upon land let upon building leases; (4) various collieries and other mine works; (5) fee-farm rents issuing out of lands and premises in various parts of England, and (6) numerous small miscellaneous premises.

The Sixty-seventh Report to Parliament (1889) contains a Schedule with a detailed description of the whole of the property then comprised under the second head above mentioned, showing the counties and parishes in which the different farms, houses, mines, &c., are situated.

Since that Report some changes have been made in that property by sale and by purchase, as set forth in the subsequent Reports, and by the addition of the fee-farm rents issuing out of lands and hereditaments situate in various parts of England.

Receipts in past year.

In the year ended on the 31st March last, the gross sum that was credited as received from the rents and royalties, &c., and the thinnings of the plantations, of the property described under the second head now in my charge, amounted to £. 406,866. This sum includes £. 3,221 received for fines on the grant of eight leases, and also about £. 3,562 paid by the Crown on account of tithe rent-charge, and subsequently collected, in pursuance of the Tithe Act, 1891, from the tenants.

Allowances.

From the gross receipts there have to be deducted various allowances made to tenants, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of £. 8,194.

Arrears of rent.

The arrears of rents and royalties due to Michaelmas last, in respect of all the property under my charge, and remaining due on the 31st March last, are shown by the following Statement, viz.:—

	£.	s.	d.	£.	s.	d.
For agricultural land (30 farms), containing 11,045 acres, let at rents amounting in the whole to £. 11,115	6,691	13	1

For miscellaneous items				185	1	8
For mineral royalties				1,582	13	8
TOTAL			£.	9,948	2	2

These arrears arise upon rentals amounting together to about £. 403,167 per annum, and represent therefore a total arrear of less than 2½ per cent. thereon.

Agricultural land in hand.

The agricultural land in hand, for want of suitable tenants, has increased by about 30 acres, during the past year, and is situate as follows. A farm consisting of 323½ acres, in Bedfordshire; two farms, comprising together 1,059 acres, in Oxfordshire; a tract of grass land, containing 357 acres, at Wingland, in Lincolnshire; another area of grass land of about 207 acres in the Isle of Sheppey, in Kent, and a farm comprising about 572 acres in Suffolk.

Agency, &c.

The Sixty-seventh Report to Parliament (1889) contains detailed information as to the agency and local management of the property described under the preceding heads, and the collection of the rents and profits arising from that property, including the names of the then principal agents, and the rates of remuneration that were then allowed. Since then, Mr. F. Simmonds, the Deputy Surveyor of the Windsor Parks and Woods, has been appointed Receiver of the rents and profits of the premises in the counties of Berks and Surrey, comprised under the first head above mentioned, and the present members of the firm of Messrs. Clutton have been appointed, in the place of Mr. J. Clutton, who retired, Crown Receivers for the southern counties except Middlesex, the properties described under the first head, and mines under the sea. The former appointment involved no change in the cost of agency and local management, but on the latter appointment the rates of poundage previously allowed were reduced on more than one-half of the collection, and the salary which had been previously paid for the management of certain woods in hand was discontinued; in other respects the terms on which the Messrs. Clutton were appointed were similar to those on which Mr. J. Clutton held the appointment.

Cost of collection and agency.

The cost in the past year of collecting the rents, royalties, &c., arising from the property comprised in the second head above mentioned, and which amount, after deducting allowances made to tenants, as mentioned above, to £. 398,672, and of the agency and local management of the several manors and estates, including the superintendence of the agricultural land in hand, and of the the execution of works of repair and improvement, is shown by the following statement:—

The collection of rents, &c., amounting to £. 398,672, and the agency and local management of the manors and estates from which those rents, &c., are derived, including the superintendence of the agricultural land in hand, and of works of repair and improvement, and all incidental expenses, cost therefore two and one third per cent. upon the amount collected.

The total expenditure made during the past year in drainage works, erecting and repairing farmhouses and buildings, and labourers' cottages, and in other repairs and improvements on the estates under my charge, other than the Windsor Parks and Woods, amount, after deducting certain credits in aid, to £. 23,304. 5. 6.

The proportion of that outlay, which was expended in permanent improvements, amounts to £. 12,073. 4. 9. That sum was paid out of the capital of the Land Revenue, pursuant to the provisions of the Crown Lands Acts, 1866 and 1894, which provide that the cost of such works executed on parts of the Land Revenues may be charged to capital, and repaid by annual instalments out of income. The residue of the outlay, amounting to £. 11,231. 0. 9., was paid out of income.

In all these cases the several lessees have built, or have covenanted to build, within a limited period, and at their own cost, substantial houses or other buildings upon the plots let to them respectively. The ground-rents reserved by leases in this class amount to £. 718.

In consequence of the opinion expressed in a Resolution of the Committee of the House of Commons appointed to inquire into the management of this Department, there have been inserted in each Annual Report, since the year 1850, the following additional Schedules, or such of them as were applicable in the circumstances of each year, viz.:—

1st. Of rents put in charge with the several Receivers of the Land Revenue in respect of property acquired for Her Majesty by purchase, lease, exchange, or otherwise.

2nd. Of rents discharged from the rentals of the several Receivers in respect of property sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of.
